A Big Move
Railroads Are Soft
France Does Not Know
Good Old Witchcraft

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

When the police entered their two-room home yesterday, George Reiner, sixty-five years old, was hanging by the neck dead, and his wife, about the same age, was nearly dead from gas. She is dying in the hospital.

The "home" was simply furnished, one chair and a bed. The other furniture had been moved out into the yard. The old couple were to be dispossessed in the morning.

They didn't know where they could sleep the next night; he had been out of work; a little money had been given her to buy food. They decided to avoid the dispossess proceedings by making a real move.

They hoped to find in that other abode no rent, no high cost of living, no foremen always saying, "We don't hire old men."

Apart from that routine piece of news, there isn't much to tell. Stocks were soft, especially railroad stocks. Owners don't like the idea of getting only 5½ per cent. on their money. If they got only the actual value of the well-gutted railroads they would be holding receivers' certificates instead of stocks. But we have a railroad government, and it is thought necessary to guarantee the profits of those that didn't build railroads, or work on railroads, but get dividends from pieces of paper.

Strange news from France, primitive republic. The government has tried Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, and sentenced him to twenty years in jail. The charge, stirring up political trouble in Syria. France gravely informs our government, and would like to have Mr. Crane imprisoned in Syria. He would sleep on the jail floor, and eat dry bread and olives.

That jail will never know Mr. Crane, for he is a gentleman worth millions, and this noble republic does not convict or jail gentlemen of that kind.

In fishing, you throw the fish back if he is too small. It's the other way around in our courts of justice. You throw the fish back and set him free if he is too big.

The other day a man was sentenced to jail for five years for stealing five cents. Some distinguished citizens stole tens of millions in the war and everybody knows it. Do you notice any of them in jail?

Quite apart from his prosperity, however, there is no good American reason for disturbing Mr. Crane. If he thought that Syrians should boss themselves and Damascus, it seems to us he had a right to say so.

A gentleman in Germany is locked up, his profitable trade destroyed. He sold pills guaranteed to inspire violent affection or bring back wandering husbands. That trade, branch of witchcraft, is one of the oldest. The Pharaohs had their makers of philters and magic pills. Saul, king of the Jews, consulted the Witch of Endor. "I pray thee, divine unto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him up." He believed what the witch told him. Perhaps that is why he lost the battle, and his life later, giving David his great chance. In the Middle Ages men made a wax figure of an enemy, stuck pins in it gradually day after day, cursing it. Finally the enemy was supposed to die.

Science has performed miracles that make the old witchcraft seem very tame. But 99 per cent. of us prefer the old witchcraft. It is more easily understood and believed.

There is an interesting corner of a courtroom at Bari in Italy. Two iron cages are full. One, smaller, holds 18 farmers. The biggest cage holds 103 other prisoners.

The Italians carry out justice dramatically. Tigers and humans accused of killing they treat alike. An iron cage holds them. It seems barbarous to us. On the other hand, they never sentence human beings to death, but give the murderers a monopoly of killing. The Italian state does not stoop to murder. That sets us a good example that we need.

Olcott, running on an anti-Ku-Klux platform in Oregon, wins the Republican nomination for Governor by 483 votes. That is pretty close. As previously stated, there is a great deal of power in secret societies. Nearly everybody objects to them, except the particular one to which he happens to belong.

The Pope tells the Eucharistic congress that world peace is not here. Peace confirms a negotiating a treaty with Rumania to defend her against Russia, if Bolshevism descends on Rumanian territory.

Germany and Russia, one with money worthless, the money of the other almost worthless, have gone back to interesting primitive barter. Germany suggests that she will rebuild Petrograd. Pavements, street car lines, etc., and take her pay in Russian oil.

Money, one of mankind's most valuable inventions, does the work more simply. The Bolsheviks discovered, after destroying their money deliberately, that it

DECLARES ACTRESS STAGED REVELS

"Sally" Girl Denies Claim and Says Injured Beauties Were Unwelcomed Guests

Police investigation of the chorus-girl birthday party, which was so wild that one man refused to stay more than thirty minutes, and at which two members of the chorus of the "Last Waltz" company, playing at the Wilbur Theatre, were so badly injured when they fell, or were thrown down a flight of stairs, they had to go to hospital, ended today when Captain Goode, of the Back Bay station announced it was up to the injured chorus beauties to bring their assailants into court.

"Let them get warrants," he said, "and we will serve them. But as far as we are concerned the investigation has ended."

He said a complete investigation into the gay revel, which took place on the night of May 16 in rooms at No. 246 Commonwealth avenue, rented by Miss Geneva Mitchell, former Follies girl, now a principal in the "Sally" company, had been made by Sergeant Walter E. French.

The police official admitted the names of every person present had

Move for World Parley to Check Drug Evil

Washington, May 26.—A resolution asking President Harding to call an international conference to enact a world code for suppression of narcotic drugs was introduced in the Senate today by Senator McNary.

The purpose of the conference, Mr. McNary said, would be to draft uniform regulations to prevent the illegal use, sale and smuggling of "dope" from one country to another.

DETECTIVE LEIGH INDICTED IN PROBST KIDNAPING

New York, May 26.—Edmund Leigh, private detective who figured in the Stillman case, today was indicted for kidnaping and wire tapping with his assistant, Peter Larson, in connection with the charge by August Probst, Swiss butler, that an attempt had been made to railroad him out of the country because of a love affair with a Pittsburgh society girl. Leigh testified recently that he and a lawyer representing James A. Stillman, New York banker, paid Fred Beauvais, Indian co-respondent in the divorce suit against Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, $15,000 for four love letters purported to have been written by her to the guide.

SPANISH LEGATION IN HAVANA BOMBED

Havana, May 26 (By International News Service).—An unsuccessful attempt was made here today to blow up the Spanish legation with a bomb. The bomb exploded in the back part of the legation building, causing only small damage. Senor Mariategui the minister, and his wife were absent when the explosion occurred. The police are unable to account for the attempt.

BABE RUTH BARRED BY BAN JOHNSON

Out of Game While League Chief Investigates Batter-er's Antics of Yesterday

Chicago, May 26 (By the Associated Press).—Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees today was declared by President Ban Johnson of the American League to be ineligible to play until a complete investigation has been made of the argument with Umpire Hildebrand which resulted in the home-run king being put out of the game yesterday, and then climbing into the stands when he became offended at the booing of fans.

Mr. Johnson said an investigation would be made at once, and that a final decision would be made by tomorrow.

Ruth, however, was not permitted to play today.

"I have received only the report of Umpire Hildebrand," said Mr. Johnson. "I have started gathering complete evidence in the case and expect to have this in my hands by tomorrow. In the meantime, Babe Ruth will not appear in the New York lineup."

SUSPENSION AND FINE.

It was learned that the American League chief was of the opinion that a one-day suspension with an unusually stiff fine, would be ample punishment for the slugger who has just returned to the game after a thirty-nine-day suspension by Baseball Commissioner Landis, for playing post-season games last fall.

Mr. Johnson has received several reports concerning Ruth, all of them being to the effect that Babe has become extremely nervous.

His condition, according to reports received by Mr. Johnson, has affected the mental attitude of Babe and placed him in such a condition that he might do and say things in the heat of the game which he would deeply regret a few minutes later.

NOT EVEN CLOSE.

Umpire Hildebrand in his report to Mr. Johnson said the decision at second was "not even close;" and that Ruth threw dirt at him, the dirt striking his shoulder. He made no mention of any dirt getting into his eyes. Hildebrand's report follows:

"In the third inning of today's game at New York, Ruth singled and tried to stretch the hit into a double and was thrown out at second base.

"After I called him out, he protested the decision and picking up a handful of earth, threw it at me. It struck and scattered over my shoulder. I then ordered him out of the game.

"He then went to the New York bench amid jeers of the crowd. In response, he doffed his cap and stepped in front of the bench and engaged in conversation with some of the spectators.

AMERICAN BACKS NEW 5-CENT FARE BILL

FREEDOM DEMANDED BY WARD

Judge Reserves Decision on Release of the Slayer of Clarence Peters

By Associated Press.

White Plains, N. Y., May 26. — Supreme Court Justice Young today reserved decision on a motion to release Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker, on the ground there was no legal charge preferred against him in connection with the killing of Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass.

Ward, rearrested yesterday, was before Justice Young on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by his lawyers.

The hearing opened with a demand by Ward's counsel that he be immediately released, on the ground the warrant for his arrest and all other papers in the case were void, as they were not accompanied by any information duly sworn to by a complaining witness.

PETITIONS RELIEF FOR PUBLIC

Five-Cent Rate and Public Ownership of System Provided in Proposed Laws

Two bills in connection with the battle for a five-cent car fare on the Boston Elevated Railway are being drafted by Attorney Grenville S. MacFarland for immediate presentation to the Legislature.

One provides for public ownership of the Boston Elevated lines. The other provides for the reduction of the fare to five cents.

Mr. MacFarland is attorney for the Boston American and has conducted the legal end of this paper's fight for fare reduction.

More than 157,000 names of Greater Boston car riders were signed to the petition circulated by the Boston American, which was presented as evidence of the tremendous popular demand for a five-cent fare at the hearing before the House Rules Committee on Mayor Curley's bill.

GIVES MATHILDE CHANCE TO QUIT

By Associated Press.

Chicago, May 26.—Speculation over the result of seventeen-year-old Mathilde McCormick's engagement to Max Oser, Swiss riding master, was renewed today following the appointment of her father, Harold F. McCormick, head of the International Harvester Company, as her guardian.

Mr. McCormick was made his daughter's legal guardian, upon her own petition, in a brief court action.

Immediately the question arose as to whether Miss McCormick made the move to provide an easy way out of the engagement to the Swiss horseman, or whether the court action was taken to hasten the marriage.

Swiss law requires a girl of Miss McCormick's age to obtain the consent of her parents or guardian to marry. It was pointed out that if Miss McCormick wishes to cancel her engagement to Oser she needs only to have her father refuse his consent.

CONFIDENCE

Confidence is the great corner stone of progress; it is the offspring of honest dealing.

With it all things go forward.

With it there is joy in living and doing.

With it there is belief in God and man.

With it great projects are undertaken and carried through.

Without it life is not worth living and achievement is impossible.

When the present management took over control of the International Trust Company, it was with full realization that by deserving and securing the confidence of the public, they could bring success and growth to the institution.

Upon this basis our growth has been as follows:

BILL FOR PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF L DRAWN BY BOSTON AMERICAN

tion, called the attention of the committeemen to the Boston American's remarkable and unique petition as indicative of the attitude of the Boston public.

"Public sentiment has been aroused," thundered the Mayor, stretching his right index fingyr at the great wheel around which the record-breaking document was wound.

"More than 150,000 names written voluntarily by car riders of Metropolitan Boston within the brief spaces of forty-eight hours should dispel any lingering doubts that the public demands a 5-cent carfare."

John A. Sullivan, former corporation counsel, who made an eloquent plea for the admittance of the Mayor's bill, also used the American's wonderful petition as the basis for one of the most telling points of his finely delivered argument.

Pointing at the thousands of names affixed to this historical document he said:

NO 5-CENT OPPOSITION.

"There is overwhelming evidence of popular discontent over the 10 cents being charged for car fare in Boston. There is staggering evidence of popular discontent, and popular discontent is not a healthy sign, and should be remedied immediately."

Although some of the questions propounded by members of the committee indicated more or less dissatisfaction on their parts th phases of the Mayors' bill, at a voice vote in opposition to cent carfares during the entire ing.

The only person present who cated a desire to be heard in osition explained later that his opposition was not to the five-cent carfare which, he declares he advocates to the Mayors' bill.

Speaker Young, who presided, sured those present that other hearings will be held and that other bills almed toward the same end may be presented, including two supplemental bills being prepared by Gremde S. MacFarland.

An unusually large crowd turned out for the hearing and the prospect of holding it in Room 276 was abandoned in favor of the bigger auditorium.

BIG PETITION PRESENTED.

As six stalwart men carried the American petition on its bier to the auditorium and placed it in front of Speaker Young's desk there was an outbreak of applause.

The Mayor introduced John T. Lambert of the Boston American, who presented the Boston American's petition to the legislators in a brief, powerful speech.

Mr. Lambert explained how, without organization, or time to formulate plans, the American appealed for petitions asking the Legislature for a five-cent fare. He told of the hundreds of volunteers who came forward, of the universal enthusiasm which greeted and answered this appeal, of how more than 150,000 names were subscribed in forty-eight hours, breaking all popularity records.

He urged the committee to be guided by public sentiment, and called attention to the fact that the petition was overwhelming evidence of the public sentiment in regard to five-cent fares.

There were several verbal passages between the Mayor and members of the committee over the former's attempt to place the street railway service in the same category with education, sewerage and lighting.

PUBLIC IS AROUSED.

Attorney Sherman L. Whipple then took the floor. He said that the public control act provided that the rider pay the cost of his ride, and something besides. This something, he said, was for the rebuilding of "depleted and exhausted property."

He objected to the rebuilding, and urged that as it is impossible to place this burden on the shoulders of the "L" board of directors, it should be placed on the general taxpayers.

"I urge," he added, "that the voice of the people as represented by the thousands of names on this great appeal (indicating the Boston American petition) be heeded. The public is aroused."

Speaker Young expressed the opinion that under the initiative and referendum it might be required that the five-cent car fare be submitted to the referendum to be voted upon by the whole Commonwealth. He asked an opinion, which neither Mr. Whipple, Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan nor Attorney John A. Sullivan volunteered to give.

Speaker Young then asked if a general tax to provide for 5-cent fares would not be a violation of the Cambridge subway act. Attorney Whipple promised to look it up.

Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan, next speaker, laid stress upon 5-cent car fares as due to public demand and justice.

Asked why such a bill was not introduced earlier he called attention to the Boston American petition, saying that it was irresistible public opinion which caused it to be filed now.

BOTH SIDES PROTECTED.

Attorney John A. Sullivan called attention of the committee to the fact that the company and public are both protected under 5-cent fares, because if neither want it they can reject it.

Attorney Sullivan stated he is opposed to government ownership.

Elmer E. Spear, corporation counsel of Everett, stating that he represented Mayor Harrison of that city, said he and the latter had doubts as to the benefits Everett will derive from a five cent fare. He thought increasing trading with Boston alone might result in less business for Everett merchants.

Following a question from Charles S. Baxter as to when opposition to the bill would be heard, the committee sent into executive session. It was finally announced that another hearing will be held at some date to be announced later.

Mayor's 5-Cent Fare Bill Ordered Printed

Mayor Curley's five-cent fare bill will soon appear as a public document.

The House today adopted a motion to have the bill printed. The motion was made by Representative Davis B. Keniston of Brookline, a member of the House Rules Committee.

Citizens anxious to read the bill will be able to get copies of it at the Public Document Room, fourth floor, State House, tomorrow or Saturday forenoon at the latest.

WORLD FLIERS STILL DELAYED IN PARIS

MARINE TELLS OF FIGHT WITH ACCUSER

"I punched Tindall in the eye because he insulted my girl, that's about what's the matter with him."

This was Private John Lawhorn's explanation today of the accusation of Charles Tindall, alleged talking machine thief, that Lawhorn murdered Charles W. Brewster, B. & M. ticket agent at Winchester on the night of April 29.

Lawhorn made the statement to Colonel Arthur T. Marix, commander of Marines at the Navy Yard, today.

"You needn't answer questions if you do not wish to," said Colonel Marix.

"NOTHING TO FEAR"

"Oh, I'll answer anything you ask, sir," said the Marine sharpshooter. "I have nothing to fear. I know nothing of the Brewster murder and never made any such statements to Tindall as he accused me of. Tindall and I had some trouble some time ago. He insulted my girl and I punched him in the eye. I suppose this was his way of getting even."

Lawhorn was brought to the Charlestown Navy Yard under guard from Quantico, Va., where he was to have taken part today in the sharpshooting contest for the famous Elliott Cup.

"It's my only regret, sir," said Lawhorn, "that I'm not down helping the boys to shoot instead of up here under guard."

Lawhorn will be held at the Navy Yard pending further investigation and will not be turned over to the civil authorities unless absolute proof is shown that Lawhorn is connected with the Brewster case.

PREDICTS ACQUITTAL

Today District Attorney Saltonstall and State police officers will interview Lawhorn. Chief of Police McIntosh and Sergeant McCauley of the Winchester police will also question the marine in an attempt to find a flaw in the alibi he has been offering.

District Attorney Saltonstall declares he is "by no means satisfied with Lawhorn's alibi."

Lawhorn confidently predicted to his guards that marine records would prove he was on duty the night that Brewster was slain.

MacFARLAND RALLY URGED RAISE OF 'L' MEN'S PAY

It was charged yesterday that Grenville S. MacFarland of the Boston American had advocated a reduction in the wages of employes of the Boston Elevated in an address before the Boston City Council May 1.

The following from the official record of his address shows exactly what he did say:

"Unless you are going to reduce the wages of our workmen and salaries—the gentleman likes to insist on salaries, paid for services rendered the road—you are not going to get your five-cent fare, or anything like it. I don't think those ought to be reduced.

"Even if the cost of living comes down, I think the workmen on that road are not receiving any too much money. I don't think it is good social or economic policy to consider that a workman's pay should be static, determining that it is to be and always having it rise or fall with the cost of living.

"On the contrary, wages ought to gradually advance, to keep up with the advancing standard of living. I have a feeling, too, that the trustees think that the wages of labor ought not to be reduced."

TRAIL DIVORCEE AS "BURGLAR MAID"

Chicago, May 26.—Mrs. Etta Perry Heil, divorced wife of a Chicago broker, is being sought as the "burglar maid" who robbed the home of Owen W. Brewer of $15,000 worth of property. Mrs. Brewer has identified photographs of Mrs. Heil as those of the maid who obtained employment in her home and disappeared several days ago with jewels and other valuables.

A year ago Mrs. Heil admitted she was the mysterious "maid" who had robbed many Chicago homes. She was arrested, but prosecution was dropped when her husband reimbursed those who had been victimized.

The Heils subsequently were divorced and it was believed that Mrs. Heil was in California until she was identified by Mrs. Brewer as the woman who had robbed her.

HARDING TO KEEP HANDS OFF STEEL

New York, May 26.—Judge Gary declared emphatically in discussing the recent steel men's dinner at the White House, that President Harding has no intention of "meddling in the steel industry or of doing anything that would in any way be injurious to the trade."

"President Harding," Gary said, "is relying on the steel men themselves to make adjustments in working hours which public sentiment now seems to demand."

WAGES RISE, PRICES DECREASE, IN JAPAN

Tokio, May 26.—According to investigations made by Government authorities concerned, wages have constantly been on the increase notwithstanding the more or less downward tendency marking commodity prices since 1918.

157,605 Signed Plea for Cut in Fare on Elevated

Some idea of the enthusiasm with which Boston greeted the Boston American's petition for five-cent fares may be gained from the fact that today, twenty-four hours after the campaign of two and a half days ended, more than 7,000 additional signatures reached the American office.

Counting the belated returns, 157,605 signatures were affixed to this unprecedented popular petition.

The American wishes to call attention of its readers and wellwishers that its campaign for signatures is over. The petition has been formally presented to the Legislature, and additional signatures will avail nothing. Had the campaign lasted a week, more than 500,000 names would have been secured.

BRIDE LEFT AT CHURCH WILL FORGIVE

Pretty Alice Morse, the seventeen-year-old South Weymouth girl, left literally "waiting at the church" by Larry Hewitt, three years her senior, is ready to forgive him the humiliation he has caused her, and will "wait forever" for him to come back.

According to his mother, Mrs. Joseph Hewitt, the elusive Larry is in Canada or on his way to England.

The girl he deserted in a Quincy parsonage says he did not desert her but that something terrible must have happened him. She refuses to give up her faith in him.

The young man's mother, seen at her home in Weymouth, told reporters that her son had been unaccountably overtaken by the wander lust before. He has what is known as the "itching foot," and likes to see strange places.

Friends say he probably wants to see Canada and England before settling down, and that it did not occur to him until the very day of his marriage that he was giving up his freedom to roam.

Miss Morse is ill with humiliation and sorrow.

Miss Morse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morse of West street. Until last year she was a student at the Weymouth High School where she was one of the most popular students. After leaving school she went to work for a Weymouth shoe concern.

PICK JURY IN WAR CONTRACT FRAUDS

By International News Service.

Washington, May 26.—The new Federal Grand Jury, before which Attorney-General Daugherty is to appear in person to submit evidence of war contract frauds, was completed and sworn in today by Chief Justice McCoy of the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Hearings will be started on Wednesday next.

BIG LINERS REPORT RECORD DAY'S RUN

London, May 26 (By the Associated Press).—The Cunard liner Aquitania sent a radio message from mid-ocean today saying that between Wednesday noon and Thursday noon she steamed 582 miles, establishing for herself a record day's run. The Berengaria, which formerly was the Imperator, also from mid-ocean but proceedify westward, sent a message saying that during the same period she steamed 573 miles, which is her best day's run since she was purchased by the Cunard line.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR LIEUT. RIORDAN

The funeral of Police Lieutenant John W. Riordan of Jamaica Plain station was held today from his home on Hyde Park avenue, Roslindale, followed by a high mass of requiem at the Church of the Sacred Heart, celebrated by Rev. Father E. J. Twomey. The body was escorted from the house to the church and thence to the Mount Benedict cemetery, West Roxbury, by an escort of police from the station, headed by Lieutenant Patrick A. O'Neil.

MEXICAN LEADERS CAUGHT, EXECUTED

San Antonio, Texas, May 26.—Two Mexican rebel leaders, ex-Mayor Nicasio Vasquez and Demaciano Escalento, have been captured and executed by forces under command of General Manuel Arenas, according to word received here today.

The two rebels belong to the group led by Leon Martinez, which has been operating in the Huasteca oil district near Tampico.

NEARBY CITIES TOLD TO MERGE WITH HUB

Would Solve Transportation Problem, Representative of Mayor Says

Come in.
Form a great metropolitan city.

That advice, from Mayor Curley, was today given by Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph P. Lyons to the cities north of the Hub that demand a metropolitan transit district, in which all the trolley lines would be operated as a single system at a single standard fare.

The demand comes principally from Malden, Melrose, Everett and Chelsea.

They want all the lines of the Elevated and the Eastern Massachusetts to be unified.

OPPOSES COMMISSION.

A bill providing for the formation of a Metropolitan Transportation Commission, to study methods for unifying the lines, was heard today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Lyons opposed it for the Mayor. "There is one way to settle this matter," he said. It is a metropolitan transportation question. If these cities will vote to become a part of Boston, thereby forming a great metropolitan city of Greater Boston, the situation can be handled without difficulty.

Lyons also protested that the new Commission would be given powers in excess of those held for years by the Boston Transit Commission, which has mapped out the subway system of Boston.

WOULD LEASE TERMINAL

Among those advocating the formation of the Commission were Judge Robert Walcott of Cambridge, Secretary Arthur C. Comey of the Boston Society of Landscape Architects and, State Commissioner of Public Works John N. Cole.

General Counsel H. Ware Bacnum said the Elevated is not opposed to an inquiry into street railway conditions in Everett and Malden. It is opposed, he said, to the building of a $2,000,000 underground station at the Everett terminal of the Elevated system. The cities and towns have enough law to build it if they want and then to lease it to the Elevated, he said.

Continuous Night Service to Revere

An agreement to provide continuous night service from Boston to Revere Beach by way of Orient Heights was made today by the Boston Elevated and the Eastern Massachusetts street railways.

The agreement was made public in the presence of the Street Railways Committee of the Legislature.

A fare of 15 cents will be charged.

Under the present conditions the line is operated on Saturday, Sunday and holiday nights during the Summer. In the future it will be open to the public every night in the week, Saturday afternoons and all day Sundays and holidays.

The time schedule will be agreed upon and announced by the managers of the two lines.

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL IS CALLED ILLEGAL

Washington, May 26.—The Senate Judiciary Committee has decided the Dyer anti-lynching bill is unconstitutional, Senator Borah announced today in a telegram to the Associated Negro Press of Chicago. Borah declared the bill, if passed by Congress, would be held invalid by the Supreme Court.

He announced, however, a measure would be framed which would stand the test of the courts.

OLD VETERAN'S WIDOW ENDS LIFE WITH BULLET

Westboro, May 26.—Mrs. Helen Parker, 74 years old, committed suicide at the home of Mrs. John Vose on South street by shooting herself in the heart and head.

Mrs. Parker came from New Hampshire five years ago to board at the home of Mrs. Vose. She was the widow of a veteran of the Civil War.

This country yesterday distributed five hundred thousand rations of grain to the starving people of Ostesia. You never heard of the place, perhaps. It's a tiny, newly-created country in the Caucasian district. It's a good thing to send grain to the hungry anywhere.

Five hundred thousand dollars will be raised to fight cancer scientifically. That's another good thing. It is hard to raise that money to fight man's worst enemy. But we'd quickly raise a thousand times five hundred thousands to fight our own human kind, if once the patriotic ball started rolling.

JOURNEYS OF HAVERHILL YOUTH TRACED

By BERT FORD.

The movements of Clarence Peters, eighteen-year-old Haverhill boy who was murdered by Police Commissioner Walter S. Ward in New Rochelle, N. Y., on May 16, today became highly important in the face of flaws found by the authorities in Ward's confession.

A checking up, partly by government records, showed that Peters did not reach New York until May 13 at the earliest and he was slain by Ward early on the morning of May 16, on a lonely road near Kensico Reservoir.

Unless Ward and Peters had met before, which is disputed by the dead boy's relatives, the former bluejacket would not have been identified with any blackmail gang longer than for 72-eight hours at most, according to the claims of his family.

The naval records show that Peters tried to enlist in the Marine Corps at Savannah, May 11, and was rejected. It is presumed that he then went direct to New York, but that journey would have taken him two days, making his arrival on May 13 at the very earliest.

HAD CRIMINAL RECORD.

He left his home at No. 23 Grove street, Haverhill, on April 25. Chief of Police Monteith of Milford, N. H., claims that Peters was arrested in his town three weeks ago for attempting to break into two stores and a garage. The charges were not pressed and the boy was set free.

Peters then appears to have gone to Paris Island, S. C. His mother received two brief, boyish letters from him there. In them Clarence said he planned to enlist in the Marine Corps and expressed doubt that he could pass the physical examination.

The police of Haverhill and Boston say Clarence had begun to show a criminal bent and they produce records of acts which led to arrests and convictions. The officials in Haverhill say that when Clarence was scarcely sixteen he stole the contents of a contribution box which tained between $4 and $5 contributed to war veterans.

They say he stepped up to a little girl, told he had been sent to relieve her so that she might go to lunch, and when she came back the boy and money had vanished. In June, 1921, Clarence Peters was arrested on three charges of auto theft, was found guilty and was sent to Lawrence Jail for ninety days, receiving thirty days on each count.

ALL OF AUTOS RECOVERED.

There were extenuating circumstances, according to the stories told by the police. The boy never attempted to sell the machines. He simply appropriated them to his own use for "joy rides," and when he tired of a car abandoned it on streets not far from his house and went home. The machines which he "borrowed" in this way were all recovered.

On November 13, 1921, Peters was arrested in Haverhill for the Boston police and was turned over to Inspectors Murphy and Killdea on the charge of stealing an automobile from the parking space in Charles street on November 7. The car was the property of William J. Maxwell of No. 61 Washington street, Stoneham. Clarence was sent to Concord Reformatory for this theft and was paroled.

COOL WAVE ON WAY HERE FROM WEST

A cool wave that will bring the mercury to 50 or below is predicted for tonight and Saturday and possibly Sunday by the weather man. The weather will continue fair. The drop in temperature will be the result of a cool wave on the Pacific coast, which is rapidly moving eastward. Near freezing temperatures were reported from Canada today. Boston at 70 was the warmest place in New England.

WARD'S PLUCKY WIFE HOLDS TRAGIC SECRET

WARD DEMANDS FREEDOM

king and confessed slayer of Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass., secured a writ of habeas corpus today in a continuation of his fight for freedom pending trial.

Ward was allowed out on $10,000 bail following his original statement to the police that he killed young Peters near the Kensico Reservoir because Peters and two accomplices in a blackmail scheme tried to kill him for failing to deliver a "hush fund" of $75,000. But yesterday he was re-arrested, as a concession to public opinion, according to the jail officials. Ward spent the night in jail, eating the same food and sleeping on the same kind of a cot as the other prisoners. According to Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., he was let out of the prison very unobtrusively and spent the night comfortably in his own home.

CALLS STORY A "LIE."

Sheriff Werner derided the Vanderbilt story, saying, "It's a lie. He didn't leave the jail after he was put in. He is there now. I am positive and emphatic."

A Supreme Court justice ordered the Westchester County authorities to produce Ward in court for argument on the habeas corpus petition.

Attorneys of the accused man mustered in force and prepared for a battle which will decide his whereabouts for the next few weeks, at least.

A beautiful woman was brought definitely into the Ward-Peters mystery, with its background of blackmail, violence and death, today.

Her identity was jealously guarded, but she is a grand dame of society and her good name is at stake.

She is said to be a close friend of Walter S. Ward, former Police Commissioner of New Rochelle, and son of the bread king, who has confessed to the slaying of Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass., ex-sailor and applicant for the marines. Ward is protecting her, according to his friends.

It is intimated that the "blackmail plot" Ward says Peters and two accomplices were engaged in was directed against her reputation.

SPENDS NIGHT IN HOME.

Westchester County society, which has often been entertained at her home, is engaged in a friendly conspiracy to keep her name out of the case. But, with District Attorney Weeks stung by hostile criticism of his apathy, it is doubtful that she will escape notoriety.

By CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR

New York, May 26.—Walter S. Ward, millionaire slayer of Clarence Peters, was rearrested and his $10,000 bond cancelled. After remaining four hours in the sheriff's office at White Plains he was taken to the White Plains jail.

Announcement was made that Ward was locked in his cell for the night pending an attempt by his attorney today to gain his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus.

A keeper at the jail said at 1:45 o'clock this morning that he was "somewhere in the building."

At 11:30 o'clock last night I, accompanied by a friend, L. Preston Hollander, saw Mr. Ward, accompanied by a man, alight from his maroon Peerless coupe in front of his home, Sutton Manor, New Rochelle, and enter his home without either knocking or ringing the bell.

After an unsuccessful effort to interview Mr. Ward, the idea occurred to me that I might obtain a new angle to the mystery by calling at his New Rochelle home and interviewing his wife.

To reach there it was necessary to drive fifteen miles. Arriving at the home I sent my card up by the maid to Mrs. Ward.

APPEARANCE OF WARD.

The maid closed the door and locked it. We waited on the verandas. At this juncture an automobile drove up below us, stopping in front of the house. Two figures emerged and came up to the verandas.

A short, stocky man came up, followed by a man whom both of us immediately recognized as Mr. Ward. He glanced, at us, smiled and bowed, and immediately advanced toward the door, which he opened with a pass key.

A few moments later the maid reappeared, and I thereupon sent up a request that I be permitted to interview Mr. Ward. The maid said to me:

"I will see if Mr. Ward will see you."

She closed the door and went upstairs. Five minutes later she reappeared with the announcement that Mr. Ward was too tired to see me.

I left the house and examined the automobile. It was a maroon coupe, with the initials C. S. W. on the door and radiator. On the opposite sidewalk were a man and a woman who lived in one of the adjoining homes. They identified the machine as belonging to Mr. Ward.

SAW WARD DINING.

Previous to this, my friend and myself had spent several hours in the vicinity of the White Plains jail. I had interviewed the jail warden, who exhibited his blotter to me, giving a record of those entering and leaving the jail for the day, and disclosing that the name of Mr. Ward had not been entered.

At almost the same moment Mr. Ward was dining his attorney and police officials at a table hastily set in the criminal department of the sheriff's office. For more than an hour we had an excellent view of Mr. Ward, by standing on a wheelbarrow and peering through a window I had slightly opened. His khaki raincoat and brown felt hat were lying over the back of a chair in front of me.

While we were at the window the wheelbarrow tipped, causing enough disturbance to attract the attention of those inside. Mr. Ward arose hastily and came close to the window. His face was within a foot of us. We knew his features perfectly.

ANOTHER NOTE GIVES PETERS' DEATH CLEW

White Plains, N. Y., May 26.—

District Attorney Weeks said he had received a second anonymous communication from New York purporting to narrate the basis of the alleged blackmailing hold Peters had on Ward. This communication, while apparently from a different person than that received Wednesday, offered the same information of alleged facts. The letter was partly written and partly typewritten, apparently by a semi-illiterate person. Weeks refused to show it to reporters.

Q.—Have you traced the ownership by the number of Peters' alleged 32 revolver? A.—We have not been able to trace it yet.

Q.—It was rumored the authorities were about to arrest Ward when he surrendered. Sheriff Werner told newspaper men Friday a surprising development would come. A.—The first information we got was Friday.

Q.—Did the sheriff know anything of Ward's connection with the killing Friday? A.—He knew Ward had killed a man.

Q.—When were the revolvers turned over? A.—Yesterday, by attorneys for Mr. Ward.

Q.—Have you any evidence Peters had been a guest in Ward's home or an employ of Ward? A.—No.

Q.—Any trace of the red car, the so-called "blackmailers' car? A.—No trace of any such car.

Sheriff Werner said that he had finally sent out a general alarm to have "Charley Ross" and "Jack" apprehended. He said he had not sent out these descriptions before, because he had hoped to obtain photographs of either or both of the men from the rogues' gallery in New York to accompany the vague descriptions given by Ward. He added:

"I could pick up twenty-five men on the street on these directions."

Coroner Fitzgerald said:

"I am not going to hold the inquests until I can get sufficient evidence to make Mr. Ward talk, because he can stand on his Constitutional rights and not say anything. We are checking up his story more rigidly than ever to investigate his claim of self-defence. It's got to be proved to my satisfaction that it is correct.

"I say honestly that the whole story does not ring true to me. We are now checking up the discordant notes."

COUNSEL FOR PARENTS TO PROBE DEEP

New York, May 26.—Attorneys Michael L. Sullivan and James L. Ronan of Salem, Mass., attorneys for the parents of Clarence Peters, the Haverhill ex-sailor boy, slain by Walter S. Ward at New Rochelle, arrived here today and engaged a New York detective agency to assist in an investigation of the murder to clear the name of Peters.

The attorneys registered at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and then conferred with a New York attorney engaged by them some days ago.

A New York newspaper today hinted friction among the Massachusetts attorneys. Attorney Sullivan said in regard to this report:

"Mr. Ronan and I are in New York in the interests of the dead boy's parents. We do not represent the Ward family in any way. Such a report must be due to misunderstanding. Attorney F. H. Magison of Haverhill is looking after the Peters family interests in that city. We are in touch with him.

DENIES FRICTION.

"Mr. Magison was associated with Attorney Scott Peters, uncle of the dead boy, for years. There is no friction or disagreement.

"I am now at liberty to state to the Boston American that the New York lawyer who has been investigating the case for us is Attorney William J. Fallon, formerly district attorney for Westchester County, in which the crime was committed."

Both Bay State lawyers scorned the blackmail theory of Ward.

"Clarence Peters' movements and history," said Attorney Sullivan, "preclude absolutely any hint of blackmail."

The attorneys went later to New Rochelle and White Plains, the scene of the crime and investigation.

Attorneys Sullivan and Ronan brought with them to New York among other papers, the last two letters written by Clarence Peters to his parents. These letter are considered important by counsel for the Peters family in that they convey boyish candor.

SHOW TWO LETTERS.

They are considered by counsel to dispute any threatened or planned affiliation with a blackmail gang. Clarence scrawled them with a lead pencil on stationery provided at the recreation hut at Parris Island Naval Station, South Carolina.

They show a trace of homesickness, of concern for the future, of earnestness to find employment and a touching interest in every member of the family.

When Clarence left Haverhill not a member of his family was working. His father has long been under a doctor's care for nervous breakdown due to lead poisoning contracted in his trade.

Clarence showed in his letters that in spite of youthful exuberance he was bound by strong family feeling. He closed with "Love and kisses" and made twelve crosses in one of his letters to denote the supply of kisses he sent to all.

There is pathos in his hope to see his baby brothers soon and his statement that he felt a long way from home but would try to take good care of himself.

THE FIRST LETTER.

The first of these two letters which are exhibits in the case was written on Y. M. C. A. stationery. It reads:

Paris Island, S. C., April 30, 1922.

"Dear Mother and Father:

"Just a few lines to let you know I have gone in the marines to see if I pass. If I don't pass I will let you know what I am going to do. How is all the rest of the family getting along? Father, Ralph and Kenneth I hope to see them soon. You can write to me if you want to, but I don't give you a name going to get it or not. When you write to me you can put my name and Recruiting Barracks, Paris Island, S. C., and I will get it all right.

"Don't worry about me, because I will try to take care of myself all right. Tell Papa I could not write to him to-day because I had waited too long already, as I got sick of looking. Is Pa and Lester working yet? If they are let me know, because I like to know if they are working. I will try to get my pay to you because the only thing there is to do. I'm not going to write very much because I can write to you as soon as I will tell you if I get in. Please write to me and tell me how everybody is at home.

"From your loving son,

"CLARENCE PETERS, Receiving Recruit, Parris Island, S. C.

"P. S.—Love and kisses to all the family. I am a long way from home."

The second letter was briefer. It was written on Y. M. C. A. paper and inclosed in a Knights of Columbus envelope. It read:

"May 1.

"Dear Mother:

"Just a few lines to let you know I have joined in the marines, but do not know whether I can pass or not. I will let you know if I do. I am down to Paris Island, S. C., now at the Marine Barracks. Do not write to me until I find out how I am going to pass. I will let you know if I pass or if I don't. Tell everybody I am thinking of them all of the time. Don't worry.

"Your loving son,

"Clarence."

ONE BIG UNION STATES STRIKE PEACE TERMS

Lawrence, May 26.—The strike committee of the One Big Union today sent letters to the agents of the mills affected by the textile strike in this city asking for a conference and giving as the union's plan of settlement the following conditions:

Restoration of the 22½ per cent. wage reduction made in December, 1920.

"No discrimination against any workers for strike activities.

"Recognition of the One Big Union shop committees.

"Time and one-half for overtime work."

The four local mills of the American Woolen Company, it was stated this noon, will shut down tonight until next Wednesday.

62 SHOE OPERATIVES IN BROCKTON ON STRIKE

Brockton, May 26.—Sixty-two operatives of the Brockton Heel Company went on strike today against a wage cut and change of methods in their work, according to an announcement by the sole locked branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union which said it was the first strike the union had declared in the Brockton district in seventeen years. Vice-President H. E. McCarthy asserted it was understaken to protect the Brockton district workers against any break in the policy of peaceful adjustment of labor disputes and to compel respect for standard wages fixed by arbitration.

OFFERED TO PAY $500 FOR DEATH OF UNCLE

John P. McDonald, a private detective, testified in Superior Court today that J. Thomas Gettigan of Revere offered $500 to him and William Lindsay, a negro, to kill his uncle, the late Clinton Richardson.

McDonald said Gettigan's purpose, in conspiring for the death of his uncle, was that he wanted to get control of Richardson's estate. Gettigan is on trial, charged with the conspiracy against his uncle and the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Cook.

The detective said that while pretending to fall in with Gettigan's plan he was in reality working for Richardson.

He continued that Gettigan told him that his aunt, Mrs. Cook, was dead, and that with Richardson removed the last obstacle to his getting the fortune would be overcome.

Earlier in the day counsel for Gettigan had tried to have similar testimony by Lindsay, the negro, excluded.

NEGRO'S EVIDENCE STANDS.

The move failed. Judge Hugo A. Dubuque admitted the evidence, as he did evidence that Gettigan once tried to lure his uncle's shooting gallery at Revere Beach burned, knowing the old man was likely to be asleep in it.

McDonald said:

"July 15, 1921, Lindsay took me to the Economy grocery store in Revere, where Mr. Gettigan was then employed. Lindsay told Gettigan I was the man he had referred to, and introduced me as a thugh. I was dressed in an old blue shirt, light blue trousers, and work a dark brown cap.

"Gettigan looked me over a few minutes and then asked me if I would put Mr. Richardson out of the way. I asked him what was in it. He said if I would kill Richardson Saturday night I'd get $500. He said his aunt, Mrs. Cook, was dead, and just as soon as he got Richardson out of the way he and Richardson's wife? Cassie, would be the only ones left.

"Lindsay and I met Gettigan the next day at the same place. He asked Lindsay if he had a gun. Bill said no, he would dare to carry one as he didn't have a license. He asked me to buy one. I refused saying I was too well known in police circles. Gettigan said he would get one in Boston on his day off.

"Thursday, July 21, Lindsay and I met Gettigan on the North Shore road, opposite the cycle track and near the Bath House station.

"Gettigan said he had been in town and all he could get was a 32 calibre revolver. He said it was no good, as he wanted at least a 32 or a 38 to do the job. He suggested that Lindsay steal one of Mr. Richardson's repeating rifles in the latter's shooting gallery.

"On July 22, Lindsay and I met Gettigan again. He gave Lindsay a $10 bill to buy a gun."

Attorney Roscoe Walsworth, Gettigan's counsel, asked that the jury be excused. He then requested Judge Hugo H. Dubuque that McDonald's testimony be stricken out, together with that of Lindsay's.

COURT RULES AGAINST SCIENCE DIRECTOR

Judge Sisk in the equity session of the Suffolk Superior Court today overruled a demurrer of William R. Rathvon, a director of the Christian Science Church, brought in a suit against him by John W. Barber of Boston to recover $3,382.17 plus interest of $8,000. Barber claims he loaned the money to Rathvon twenty-five years ago, when, he alleges, Rathvon was in financial straits. Rathvon's contention was that the suit was barred by the statute of limitations.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ASKS LENIENCY FOR YOUTH

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien appeared in Superior Court today and asked leniency for James J. Foley of South Boston, eighteen years old, who had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering, although also indicted for an assault with intent to kill Police Officers Michael J. Curran and Thomas J. O'Connor and with being armed with a dangerous weapon. Judge Dubuque sent Foley to Concord Reformatory for five years and one day.

FOSTER CREDITORS ALSO PETITION AGAINST ADAMS

Joseph Adams of Winchester, son-in-law of former President Edward S. Foster of the Second National Bank, who on $15,000 bail on the charge of misappropriating $75,000 funds of that bank and who was petitioned into bankruptcy yesterday, was petitioned into bankruptcy today. The claims against Adams total $4,786.28, two of his creditors being those who petitioned his father-in-law into bankruptcy.

DRIVERS CLEARED BY JURY IN 8 MINUTES

Anthony Cassidy and James Williams, drivers for the Frost Forwarding and Transportation Company, on trial in the Suffolk County Superior Court charged with cruelly driving horses, were found not guilty today after the jury had been out but eight minutes.

POLICE END PROBE INTO CHORUS GIRL REVEL

been learned, but refused to make them public.

"I don't think it fair to do so at this time," he said.

FIVE MEN AT REVELS.

It is known that at least five men were at the event, which ended in the wee hours of the morning.

It was Benjamin Lipsky, distant relative of Benjamin Kabatznick, art dealer and owner of the property where the revel was staged, who described it as "so wild" he refused to stay more than thirty minutes.

It was Lipsky, according to Miss Mitchell, who was host at the party.

Lipsky is employed by Kabatznick in his art studio at No. 468 Boylston street. Kabatznick leases the Commonwealth avenue property and rented the rooms the revel was staged in to Miss Mitchel.

Lipsky today hotly denied that it was his party. He charged Miss Mitchell with having given the party and said he was invited by her to attend.

"She is to blame—not me," said Mr. Lipsky. "I left half an hour after I got there. The girls looked as if they had been drinking. They were singing and acting wildly. In fact things got so hilarious within sixty minutes after I reached Miss Mitchell's apartments that I left.

"I'm not used to mixing with that kind of company. It was too hectic for me, so I got out."

"Next day in the store," he said, "one of the 'Last Waltz' girls came and told me two show girls in the company had been at the party and we all bunged up."

Asked who was at the party he said: "I met two naval officers in uniform, but I don't recall their names. I met two men in civilian's clothes who were introduced as 'Mr. Dixon' and 'Mr. Fitzgerald.'"

FENCE BLANKETS REVEL.

He said he knew that Miss Mitchell gave up her apartments the night after the party.

"Is it any wonder?" asked Mr. Lipsky.

Miss Mitchell denies the party was given in her honor and declares that while liquor was served there was no disturbance. One of the girls, she said, fell down stairs and was sent home.

Miss Mitchell is the girl who while a member of a chorus in New York a few months ago married George Sauge, Yale freshman, only to announce a few days after that she did not love him and would not live with him. This made her eligible for promotion under the agreement Ziegfeld system, and she was elevated to the place left vacant by Mary Hay, when Miss May Dixie with the star-of-the company left suddenly disappeared from the cast.

The two former members of "The Last Waltz" company who were injured are Miss Eleanor LeSar, 23 years old, and Miss Marie Levine, 24. They were sent to the Haymarket Relief Station and thence Miss LeSar was sent to the City Hospital. One of the young women is convalescing and is unable to see anyone.

KABATZNICK OWNS BUILDING.

It is said that the girls were gagged and thrown downstairs because they resented improper advances made by some of the men who attended the revel. Later they lost their positions with "The Last Waltz" company.

Mr. Kabatznick has a display room on the street floor of the building in Commonwealth avenue, where he exhibits rugs, tapestries and high-grade furniture.

FOURTEEN IN PARTY

This exhibit room is entirely separate from his Boylston street establishment, where autographed photographs of Mr. Kabatznick's theatrical friends are constantly displayed in the show window.

When the "Sally" company came to Boston, Miss Mitchell rented the three upper floors of the Commonwealth avenue building from Mr. Kabatznick, and entertained her friends there.

Eight girls and six men attended the party. Reports which have come to the police say that liquor flowed freely and that there was singing, dancing and music. Six of the girls are said to be members of the "Sally" company.

Marie Levine was transferred to the City Hospital on May 19. She remained there until May 23.

CHORUS GIRLS CHARGE ATTACK

Photo diagram of the scene of the alleged wild revel in the building owned by Kabatznick, the art dealer, at No. 246 Commonwealth avenue. Eleanor Le Sar and Marie Levine claim they were beaten and thrown down stairs when they resisted improper advances by men in the party. The first floor of the building is used by Kabatznick to exhibit his wares. On the other floors are living rooms.

Miss Le Sar was less seriously injured. She was discharged from the Relief Station within a few hours after being sent there.

It is reported that Miss La Sar collapsed on the stage of the Wilbur Theatre at the matinee on the day following the birthday party.

This story became public when the two girls told friends that certain male members of the party made improper advances, which they resented, and that as a result they were roughly handled.

GIRLS RETAIN COUNSEL.

The girls have retained Attorney Bernard E. Carbin, of No. 30 Pemberton square, as counsel. He declined to discuss the case.

Robert Evans, manager of "The Last Waltz" company would talk only over the house telephone at the Hotel Savoy, where he is stopping.

He declared that he knew nothing about the party, that he was not present at it, and that he didn't know the names of the girls or anybody else connected with it.

STAR DENIES ROW

Miss Geneva Mitchell of the "Sally" company at the Colonial Theatre last night denied that she saw any attack on the two girls, or any assault, or that the affair was a birthday party.

"I rented the three floors from Mr. Kabatznick," said she, "and went to live there with my mother when the show came to Boston. It was rented to us with the understanding that parties would be allowed.

"One day Mr. Benjamin Lipsky, a nephew of Mr. Kabatznick, asked me if he couldn't have a party that night and I said yes. Four girls and four men accompanied me to the affair. When I got there I found those two girls there. All I knew was that they were called Marie and Eleanor. There were two men there also whom I didn't know. I understand they were not invited.

Chorus Girl Party Not Held in Studio

The chorus girl birthday party at which two members of the chorus of "The Last Waltz" company were so badly hurt they had to be taken to a hospital was not held at the studio of Benjamin Kabatznick at No. 468 Boylston street.

The party, said to have been given in honor of Miss Geneva Mitchell, principal in "Sally," playing at the Colonial Theatre, was held in her apartment at No. 246 Commonwealth avenue on the night of May 16. Miss Mitchell rented the apartment, covering three floors, from Mr. Kabatznick.

Mr. Kabatznick was not at the party.

His studio at No. 468 Boylston street comprises art salesrooms.

TWENTY ARE KILLED IN TWO EXPLOSIONS

By International News Service.

Emporium, Pa., May 26.—A telephone report received here says three powder mill packing houses were blown up at Sinemahoning, Pa., today.

The explosive was of such a nature that only three men were permitted to work in a building.

The three structures were blown up almost simultaneously. Nine men were reported blown to pieces. The plant belonged to the Shinne-Mahoning Powder Company.

By Associated Press

Birmingham, Ala., May 26.—Eleven miners were killed in an explosion in Acmar No. 3 mine of the Alabama Fuel and Iron Company, St. Clair County, according to reports received today.

Five of the men were white.

DECLARES COAL SUPPLY IS FAST DWINDLING

New York, May 26.—Assertions that America's coal supply is rapidly dwindling and that there is a possibility that many industries may have to cease operations soon, unless more coal is produced immediately, were freely made today, when the operators and miners resumed their negotiations here seeking to bring an end to the strike. "I do not believe there is more than two months' coal supply in the United States," James McAndrews, a Pennsylvania member of the miners' executive committee, declared. "When the public once realizes that the wheels of industry may have to stop, there will be a mighty cry for coal production from one end of the land to the other."

COMPTROLLER SUGGESTS EUROPE PAY WITH GOODS

Pittsburgh, May 26.—Maintenance of the gold standard by foreign nations is vital, Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger declared today in an address here before the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association. "It is not necessary," he continued, "that Europe shall forthwith begin to pay interest upon its obligations to us. Indeed, today that would mean that Europe must drain itself of its remaining gold and break down the gold standard. The only alternative would be for Europe to furnish us with goods, which we could only accept at the price of substituting them for goods produced by our own industries."

LOU TELLEGEN'S SEPARATION SUIT OFF

New York, May 26.—Counsel for Geraldine Farrar believe that the noted singer has been placed in a more advantageous legal position by a move made in the Supreme Court. The separation action instituted by her husband, Lou Tellegen, the actor, was stricken from the court calendar by order of Justice Wagner.

The order of Justice Wagner was issued at the request of Miss Farrar's counsel, Samuel Untermyer. It declared the technical procedure was improper and that the case should be stricken off.

The advantage obtained by Miss Farrar is that the suit she filed against Tellegen now will be reached first.

The original suit for separation, was filed by Tellegen in Westchester county. The action was later transferred to New York. Afterward Miss Farrar filed a suit for divorce in New York.

Mr. Schwartz said the case would not come up for hearing until next Fall because of the Summer vacations in the courts. Eugene Untermyer, speaking for Samuel Untermyer, said the case had been stricken from the calendar because of improper procedure.

ECONOMY MAIN G. O. P. ISSUE, SAYS BEVERIDGE

Indianapolis, May 26.—Political issues of the coming Fall campaign were forecast before Indiana Republicans at the first State political convention of this year. Albert J. Beveridge, candidate for United States Senator, singled out the main issue as economic, declaring: "The supreme and immediate duty is to restore American business to full strength and vigor, as the means ofenduring prosperity of all the people."

MASONS PLAN TEMPLE FOR WASHINGTON RELICS

PAWTUCKET STAR IN SUNDAY BALL FIGHT

Pawtucket, May 26.—Minot J. Crowell, head of the Red Cross chapter, commander of the American Legion, and former pitching ace of Brown University, will make an urgent appeal for Sunday baseball here before the Board of Aldermen. Opposing the move for Sunday ball are various clergymen throughout the Blackstone Valley who claim that the playing of games on the Sabbath is a "desecration of the day."

SWIG INTEREST PETITION IS REJECTED

By a vote of twenty-eight to ten, the State Senate rejected Simon Swig's initiative petition to compel the savings banks to pay monthly interest. Swig is expected to take the bill to the people for their decision.

A brief debate preceded the death of the bill in the Senate. Senator Wellington Wells of Boston said it would compel the banks to hire additional help. It would also compel them to keep the most liquid of assets, thereby reducing the amount available for real estate loans, he said.

Representatives Owen E. Brennan of Lowell and William H. Hannegan of Marlboro submitted a minority report in which they asserted the banks are unjustly enriched and people in modest circumstances unjustly deprived of what is theirs by the withdrawal of money between interest dates, which are often in many cases three months apart. By those withdrawals the people lose the interest that has accumulated for 29 days, they contended.

TEACHERS' PAY CUT AROUSES MELROSE

Action of the Board of Aldermen in Melrose in voting to pay school teachers old-time salaries, instead of advanced wages agreed upon a year ago, has aroused the ire of teachers and citizens to such an extent that a recurrence of school teacher troubles that caused a strike in Westport and a near-one in Winchester threatens.

While no strike threat has been made anything is said to be possible if the aldermen at their next meeting two weeks hence fail to act upon the demands of a citizens' committee that teachers get a maximum salary of $1,600 per year instead of $1,300, old-time wage.

At a meeting jammed to the doors by 1,500 parents of school pupils at which half a dozen speakers, including ex-Mayor Charles H. Adams, delivered addresses, a rising vote was taken unanimously to force the Board of Aldermen to retract action taken at a meeting two nights ago when it voted to do away with the wage increase.

VOTED $300 RAISE.

Melrose elementary grade teachers a year ago, dissatisfied with their maximum salaries of $1,300 a year, were seeking better jobs elsewhere. To hold their teaching force together, the Board of Aldermen and the School Board at a joint meeting with the teachers voted to advance wages to $1,600, the $300 increase to come semi-annually, $75 at a time.

Increases were to be made in September and January of each year until the $1,600 maximum salary had been reached, when they would cease.

In September the teachers got the first increase, making their salaries $1,375. On January another increase was made, but failed to materialize, due to a new Board of Aldermen being in office and refusing to honor the agreement made by its predecessor.

REPUDIATED AGREEMENT.

Not only did the aldermen refuse to adhere to the old agreement and grant the $75 increase due, but at the board's last meeting the first increase was amputated, funds being voted to cover salaries of $1,300 only.

At the citizens protest meeting the following spoke: Victor A. Friend, Miss Bertha Davis, president of the Melrose Teachers Club, William D. Sprague, principal of the high school; ex-Mayor Adams, Rev. L. C. W. Emig, pastor of the Methodist Church; Mrs. John F. Myrtledon, Miss Washburn, superintendent of the Washington school, and Miss Hatch, principal of the Gooch school.

A committee was appointed today to wait upon the Board of Aldermen at its next meeting and demand that the agreement of a year ago be lived up to.

MARJORIE PELTON

Miss Pelton of Lynnfield was chosen leading lady for "Billeted," the senior play of the Boston University College of Liberal Arts to be given during senior week on Thursday evening, June 14, in Jacob Sleeper Hall. The play will be repeated at the alumni reunion to be held at Lasell Seminary in Auburndale, June 17.

WIFE BACK, ALONE AND PENNILESS

Providence, May 26.—Mrs. Lena Berardis, twenty-six years old, wife of John Berardis of Brayton street, sat on the steps of her husband's home this afternoon, heart broken, wondering what punishment her husband would mete out to her.

Six hours ago she and a boarder in the lodging house run by the young woman were reported to have left Providence together after a visit to the People's Bank, where Mrs. Berardis drew out $899.33 of her husband's savings.

She went to New York, registered at a hotel and later went to New Haven. Yesterday the last of the money vanished. So did a gold watch and chain. So did the boarder.

Disillusioned, Mrs. Berardis, sold her wedding ring and bought a ticket back from Providence. As soon as she got here she went to the police station and told her story.

Captain Higgins told her to go home; that he had no warrant for her arrest or any charge against her.

PRES. HARDING SIGNS DRASTIC ANTI-DRUG BILL

Washington, May 26.—The Jones-Miller anti-narcotic bill, fostered and promoted by the Hearst newspapers and the most drastic preventive measure adopted by any country in the world dealing with the manufacture and distribution of opium and other life-slipping drugs became the law of the land today through the signature of President Harding.

Immediate steps will be taken to carry out the provisions of the new law, which strikes a death blow at the illicit drug traffic, it was announced.

The Federal Narcotic Control Board, to be composed of Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, will be organized with powers to control the sweeping program provided by the law to regulate the manufacture of narcotics for medicinal purposes only and prevent shipments of drugs to and from any country which does not co-operate in stopping the vice.

WORLD DRIVE PLANNED.

Millions of lives will be saved from ruin and the country protected from the terrible menace of "dope" through the new law, jurists, law officers and health experts declare.

The calling of a world council to arrange for controlling the production, manufacture and sale of narcotics in other countries is being considered by Federal authorities as the next step in the fight to stamp out the "dope" evil throughout the world.

The measure which became a law today increases the penalty imposed on illicit drug dealers and importers to ten years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000.

In addition to a Federal narcotic control bill it further provides:

Deportation of alien offenders as undesirable aliens.

Compliance by the United States with the provisions of the international opium convention of 1912 commonly known as The Hague convention.

The "dope" habit has been spreading through the United States with alarming rapidity, and, like a sweeping plague, has left no class of society untouched. Fifth avenue and the East Side in New York alike have felt its ravages, and so it has been in other cities—its highest as well as the lowest have been held in the clutches of the evil.

Today, America, of all nations, is the greatest user of opium and its derivatives. It is estimated that there now are in the United States 5,000,000 drug addicts.

This country has imported ten times more crude opium than Germany, France and Italy combined.

Swift Justice for Murderer of New York Policeman

New York, May 26 (By International News Service).—Justice moved swiftly today to avenge the slaying of Policeman Douglas W. Hays, "medal man" who was shot and killed by Michael Fradiano.

Fradiano was arrested in 2 hours, pronounced sane in three days, tried in six and today the jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. He will be executed.

SAYS DENTIST IS FATHER OF HER CHILD

Brockton, May 26.—Mrs. Eva M. Guay, 41 years old, of No. 227 Court street, charged that Dr. Winfield Scott Garland, an Avon dentist, is the father of her 4-months-old infant, when she testified in the district court here.

She told the court that the child was born to her while at Summerside, Prince Edward's Island, where she was associated with Dr. Garland as saleslady for a silver fox concern.

The woman, who is married, but lives apart from her husband, stated that while at Summerside she lived in Dr. Garland's home.

Testimony was introduced showing that the couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. John Scott at a hotel in Summerside.

According to the testimony of the officer who served the warrant for Dr. Garland's arrest, he heard him admit to his wife that he was friendly with the woman.

HUB GETS CONVENTION OF MASONIC CLUBS

Atlantic City, N. J., May 26.—Boston will entertain the 1923 convention of the National League of Masonic Clubs, which brings an attendance of 500 delegates and nearly 5000 visitors for its festivities. Boston was selected at the closing session of the 17th annual convention here.

CIGARETTE SPARK BLOWS UP FIREWORKS PLANT

New York, May 26.—Nunzio Sunday, fourteen years old, went into his father's fireworks plant smoking a cigarette. A spark from the cigarette ignited powder and the building was blown to pieces. Nunzio's shirt was blown off, but he suffered no bodily injury.

O'BRIEN NAMES AIDE TO HEAR PIERCE CASE

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien has assigned his assistant, Henry P. Fielding, to prosecute the indictment against Judge Edward P. Pierce of the Supreme Court on a charge of obstructing justice.

Though the case has been put on the trial list for Monday in Superior Criminal Court before Judge O'Connell, it is not expected that a hearing on the merits of the case will begin on that day, it being understood that preliminary motions to be presented in behalf of Judge Pierce must first be disposed of. After a decision on those motions the evidence for the government will be offered.

The specific charge against Judge Pierce is that he obstructed justice by depriving Mrs. Mary E. Hand, Mrs. Blanche E. Leger and Henry Wood, heirs of Edmund Wood, of title to the Waban Rose Conservatories and the Henry Wood Sons Company, both of which were managed and controlled by Attorney W. Edwin Ulmer.

JUDGE DROPS WORD OBEY FROM MARRIAGE RITUAL

Buffalo, N. Y., May 26.—In marriages in Niagara Falls Justice Court the word "obey" was dropped from the ritual by Municipal Judge Charles H. Piper. The word makes the present ritual ridiculous in the light of modern times, explains the justice. "From today on I shall not impose such a hardship on th prospective bride as to compel her to promise to "obey" her future husband. She doesn't anyway, so why go through the old form of service?"

EDITOR EXPOSES DUPLICITY OF LODGE

How Senator Henry Cabot Lodge divulged a confidence and then took upon himself to brazenly allow it to be supposed at Harvard commencement exercises that he was the author of the gold plank in the platform that swept the Republican party to victory in 1896, is exposed by H. H. Kohlsaat, author and close personal friend of President McKinley in an article in a popular weekly magazine.

Mr. Kohlsaat reveals a conversation between Lodge and Mark Hanna the late Republican leader, when the Massachusetts Senator after attempting to force his ideas on the gold issue on the party was told to "Go plumb to Hell," at the convention.

"WEAKLY CONSENTED."

Mr. Kohlsaat said that when the plank was drawn up Senator Lodge came and asked for a copy of it.

"I want to show it especially to one man," he said, "I will keep it confidential."

"I was weak enough to consent," Mr. Kohlsaat writes, and his stenographer made a copy of it.

"This happened Monday morning about 11 o'clock. The evening papers of Tuesday, in St. Louis, printed a dispatch from Boston giving the contents of the plank I had handed Lodge. Afterward one of the Boston correspondents told me Lodge gave him the plank and said: That is what I stand for!'

TOOK CREDIT.

"He did not claim he wrote it, but a week later he was introduced at the Harvard commencement exercises as the author of the gold plank and, as the papers reported, 'received a great ovation!'

"Two or three days later Senator Proctor went me a dispatch asking me to send him a wire which he could print and read to his audiences telling of the writing of the gold plank Friday, June 12. He said: 'Give me such credit as you can, as other Eastern men are claiming authorship.'"

Former Dictator of Venezuela an Exile and in Poverty

GENERAL CIPRONA CASTRO
(International News Reel Photo.)

General Castro is now living in San Juan, Porto Rico, exiled and in poverty. For many years he was a power of life and death in Venezuela, and even now, in his humble circumstances, he is said to still harbor hopes of returning to his native soil, and resuming power. His present home is little more than a hovel, but the loss of power and rule has not deprived him of any of the fire and spirit he boasted as dictator.

RACE LINE ROW STIRS VERMONT ACADEMY

Rutland, Vt., May 25.—The resignation of Erwin Batchelder, popular science teacher at Vermont Academy, Saxtons River, because he refused to eat at the same table with a negro student, has started a fight among the faculty which threatens to split it wide open and which may cause a strike among white students in the school.

His resignation caused a stir which has already spread among residents here and demands have been voiced for the drawing of a color line at the school.

Mr. Batchelder graduated last year from Dartmouth.

The young negro student comes from Haiti.

Following his refusal to sit at the same table with the youth the young professor was summoned before the faculty. He is said to have hotly declared himself. Part of the faculty is said to have backed him. The majority ruled against him, however, and his resignation was asked for.

DYE STOCKINGS OR SWEATER IN "DIAMOND DYES"

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—Advertisement.

CLASHED OVER BROTHER OF PRESTON

New charges against the Wakefield police presented to the Board of Selectmen last night by Attorney Stanley A. Dearborn resulted in the meeting breaking up in a row after Chairman Forrest Seavey and the lawyer had exchanged bitter words.

Patrolman Joseph Preston, brother of the officer for whose murder Clarence W. Loud was tried and acquitted, was again the storm centre.

Attorney Dearborn charged that Prestonu had shoved John Walsh of Rockland street, a sixteen-year-old boy, downstairs at a dance held by the Franklin School Associates in the Wakefield Theatre building a short time ago.

Dearborn was asked to present witnesses before Selectman Edgar Peterson at the office of the chief of police last night. He had several witnesses, including Principal Raymond of the Franklin School; Walsh, his brother Edward and a girl friend of the boy.

All the testimony was to the effect that young Walsh was reading a paper in an anteroom when Officer Preston ordered him out and then laid hands on him. Some of the witnesses said that Preston shoved the boy, who landed at the bottom of a staircase, injuring his hip.

Although not invited, Chairman Seavey of the Selectmen volunteered the information that he thought the attack on Wakefield's force unwarranted.

Attorney Dearborn replied that if he could not get unbiased authorities to hear his case by presenting it to the Selectmen, he would go elsewhere for his remedy.

The verbal tilt between the two resulted in the hearing coming to an abrupt and inglorious ending.

Selectman Peterson tried to make peace by saying he wanted to hear all of Dearborn's witnesses, but his efforts were in vain.

BOY BURGLAR FOUND HIDING IN ICE CHEST

Lawrence, May 26.—Anabell Gemma of Providence, R. I., was sentenced to serve six months in jail for breaking and entering when he appeared before Judge Louis S. Cox in Essex County Superior Criminal Court here. Gemma, it was charged, had been discovered in a store at No. 295 Oak street. The officer on the beat had seen the flash of a hand light in the dark store. He made a search and found Gemma in the ice chest hiding.

CAMBRIDGE WOMAN, HIT BY AUTO, IS DEAD

Mrs. Mary A. Gleason, fifty-six years old, of No. 19 Antrim street, Cambridge, died today at the Cambridge Relief Hospital from a fractured skull. She was struck last night on Prospect street by an automobile driven by Charles D. Morrissey of No. 172 Huntington avenue, Boston. Morrissey carried her to the hospital and reported the accident to the police. He was released.

TRUCK HITS TROLLEY, THEN SCURRIES AWAY

A Middlesex and Boston Street Railway trolley car was side-swiped by an Army truck on Massachusetts avenue, near Sylvia street, in East Lexington. The truck tore away the handles by the side of the door, and scraped the side of the car, but the operator did not stop, and fled away without making known his identity. No one was injured, but passengers in the trolley car were given a bad fright.

$20,000 WILL BE A HELP, SAYS MRS. NELSON

Windsor, Vt., May 26.—Mrs. Nellie Rudisill Nelson, southern belle, who was awarded a verdict of $20,000 against her wealthy father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Nelson, for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Remeyn Nelson, second-year student at the Harvard Law School, is on her way back to her North Carolina home today.

"The money will be a help," she said before leaving here, "but what I value even more highly is the justice that the jury has given me against two very cruel, unkind persons."

The verdict, one of the largest of its kind in this State, brought forth no demonstration from the young plaintiff or her friends until Mrs. Nelson left the court room. Then she was surrounded by a large crowd who congratulated her on the finding of the jury.

She thanked everybody and made no attempt to conceal the tears of joy that coursed down her cheeks.

"I am very happy," was all she could say to her friends and admirers.

During the long stress of the trial, where day after day she was compelled to sit within a few feet of the man she says deserted her at the behest of her two enemies, her father-in-law and mother-in-law, she remained composed, almost indifferent.

But with the announcement that the jury had reached a verdict less than three hours after the case had been turned over to them, she showed signs of breaking down, and when the verdict was read, giving her $20,000, she collapsed completely and wept openly. She had sued for $50,000.

Neither the elder Nelson nor his wife would comment upon the verdict today and their attorney declined to say whether they intended to appeal from the $20,000 verdict or not.

"CAPPY RICKS" PAYS VISIT TO BOSTON

"Cappy Ricks" came to Boston today. "Cappy Ricks" is, in private life, Captain Robert Dollar, the Pacific coast shipping magnate, the most celebrated ship operator in America. The author, Peter B. Kyne who created Cappy Ricks of the stories and movies, is said to have taken Captain Dollar for his inspiration.

Captain Dollar led representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Maritime Association and other public bodies a merry chase after they learned of his presence here. Although they saw of the shipping magnate was the dust kicked up by the automobile in which he flitted from hither and yon—and back to hither again. Common taxicabs were useless in the chase.

Captain Dollar came here to look over some proposed sites for a big lumber terminal for Boston, similar to those at Poughkeepsie and Baltimore. He was accompanied by W. H. Elliott of New York, who has charge of the extensive Dollar lumber interests in the East.

He went from the South Station directly to the Army Base, where the steamship Esther Dollar is discharging cargo picked up all the way from Yokohama to Sicily, she being the first ship to arrive in Boston in the Dollar line's around-the-world service. On the ship Captain Dollar had breakfast with Captain McPhail, commander of the ship. From there he went to the various sites which have been suggested as available for a lumber terminal, where millions of [illegible] of all kinds can be discharged directly from ships and loaded on to cars, trucks or small craft.

One of Captain Dollar's ships is now on the way to Boston with 2,000,000 board feet of Pacific coast lumber. According to Dollar representatives in Boston, Captain Dollar is considering the establishment of a terminal that could handle such a cargo two or three times a month.

John N. Cole, Commissioner of Public Works, who went to the Pacific coast last Winter in an endeavor to interest Western lumber interests in such a project, vainly endeavored to get in touch with Captain Dollar during the forenoon, but stated he hoped to meet the California shipping magnate before he left the city.

DOPE RING KING AND WIFE HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Charles E. Wilde, known to the police as "Canada Charlie" and "King of the Cokies," was held for the Grand Jury in $5,000 by Judge Palmer in Roxbury Court today on the charge of unlawful possession of morphine and cocaine and being present where narcotics were found.

Wilde's wife, Leah, who was arrested with him in their apartment on Hunneman street, Roxbury, following a raid by the vice squad, was held in $1,500 for the Grand Jury, together with Alice C. Reynolds, who is charged with unlawful sales of morphine and cocains to Rose Barry and Augustus Arm of West Newton street. Bond for the Reynolds woman was set at $2,000. Attorney Hale Power appeared for the latter woman.

According to the police, Wilde has been under suspicion as the head of a dope peddling outfit for many weeks. He is said to have employed his children to deliver the drugs to customers. He hails from Halifax, N. S., and is said to have obtained dope from Montreal for distribution in Boston.

YEAR FOR NEGRO WHO USED KNIFE AND GUN

Edward Robinson, colored, of New Orleans, was sentenced to one year by Judge Dowd in Municipal Court today, on two charges of assault. Saturday night the negro is alleged to have attacked Abraham George of No. 201 Shawmut avenue, with a loaded revolver, and on Sunday he was said to have stabbed George Karnes of Washington street, South End, with a knife, in the knee.

BIG GUN SHOT NEARLY HITS SHIP IN HARBOR

The crew of the 67-year-old schooner James L. Maloy was given a scare off Quarantine when a big shot, which came from the direction of Fort Strong and was presumed to have been fired in target practice, whizzed past the vessel and struck the water off the starboard side.

The Maloy, in command of Captain O. F. Church, was inward bound from New Bedford, in ballast.

3 DEAD, 2 ILL, FROM EATING TOADSTOOLS

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 26.—Three members of the family of Joseph Lawlor, a farmer at Gorden Lake, Ont., nine miles north of Desbarats, are dead as a result of eating a quantity of what were believed to be mushrooms, but which were a poisonous species of fungus. Two other members of the family are seriously ill. A three-year-old boy who refused to eat the dish is the only one of the family not affected.

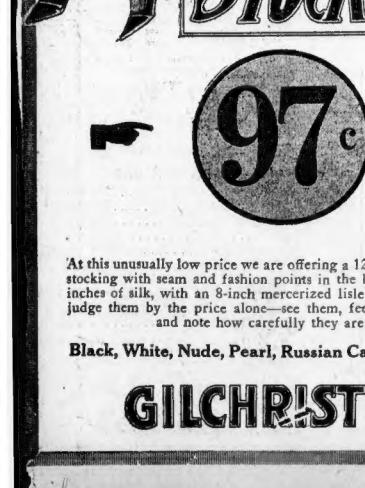
Paris, France.

PARIS afternoons that are formal are met by gowns that are sweetly fragile. Lace—the red lace that is so smart at the moment, collared with soft dyed squarrel fur, makes this Ytеb dress and matching caps of melting loveliness. The surplice bodice is girdled with gold braid set with large red stones, and the skirt is shorter at the sides than in front, as contrasted with the lengthened sides to which we have become accustomed. Gown and wrap are finished with scallops at the bottom.

YTEB again presents the red note in a frock of silk mousseline with picot-edged mousseline petals on its skirt panels. The bodice is round-necked and sleeveless, with a sash-girdle of its own material that ties with loops and ends over one hip.



PURE DYE SILK STOCKINGS

HAMMOND SEES RADIO GUIDED PLOWS SOON

By Universal Service

Washington, May 26.—Mechanical plows controlled with invisible rains from a radio tower may be expected to revolutionize agriculture of the future.

This is one of the next practical steps in the use of radio dynamics seen by John Hays Hammond, Jr., in an exclusive interview for Universal Service.

"Farm owners have already written me in this regard," he said.

Change of mechanical plows of the kind already in use on the great farms of the Middle West can be controlled and operated simultaneously by radio from a tower centrally located.

"Work which now takes weeks can be done in days. What that will mean to agriculture is self-evident."

INEXCUSABLE SHIP DISASTER.

Hammond declared that such disasters as the sinking of the Egypt with its great loss of life have become inexcusable, and can be prevented in future by legislation compelling steamship companies to equip their boats with radio direction finders in combination with submarine signalling devices, which keep one vessel constantly informed as to the exact proximity and direction of others.

"Such instruments have been in use for years," he said, "but not as generally as they should have been. Collisions at sea should now be entirely avoidable.

Preparatory to leaving for his lecturettes at Gloucester, Mass., this week he conferred with President Harding at the White House.

Hammond's inventiveness seems never at rest. Asked how he would prevent collisions between airplanes, and reminded that the aviator, who must watch closely mobs than a score of instruments in his cockpit, cannot always be looking ahead, he replied:

AIDED BY HARVARD.

"A system of reflecting mirrors could be so arranged in the plane that the aviator could watch his instruments and at the same time maintain a lookout for approaching planes—a development of the simple reflectors already used by motorists."

Like most practical inventors Hammond does not claim all the credit for his inventions. He says that skilled amateurs have been responsible for much of the recently rapid development of radio telegraphy and telephony.

He declares himself especially indebted in his work, both on war and peace, to the facilities afforded him by President A. Lawrence Lowell at Harvard and Dr. G. W. Pierce and Dr. E. Leon Chaffe at the Crupt Laboratory at Harvard.

"I am thinking of fitting up a bobsled as a glider for flying jumps over the snow up at Gloucester this Winter. If you don't care whether or not you break your neck come up and help me out," he invited.

Radio System Rua by State Is Proposed

A bill to study the necessity of establiehing a State radio system, with the distribution of radio sets to the people under a system of public ownership, was filed with the Legislature by Wendell Phillips Thore.

A commission would be created to consider:

The establishing of State broadcasting stations for public use, free of charge.

The advisability of issuing public statements and State documents by radio.

"The purpose," said Mr. Thore, "is to provide the fullest opportunity for the dissemination of public information. It would bring the people into closer contact with their government. There should be no censorship."

Now Bold, Bad Men Are Flirting by Radio

Philadelphia, May 26.—Enter the radio masher!

His initial appearance in the ether was related by Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania.

"I received a letter the other day," said the Governor, "from a very outraged and indignant woman who had just purchased a radio set.

"'I was enjoying a lovely concert,' the letter read, 'when suddenly a coarse voice broke in in the middle of it and shouted: "Is there any good-looking dame listening to this? Because if there is I want her to meet me at the corner of the Friends' Graveyard in Quakertown tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

TO TEACH MEN RIGHT USE OF REVOLVERS

Many bank clerks and messengers who are assigned to protect property placed under their care with pistols, do not know how to use them, according to Warren F. Gould, who has been given by the Military Order of the World War the position of instructing those carrying pistols in their use.

This instruction is given at the Cadet Armory every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons during this month.

In speaking to many taking this training he has found that some bank clerks and messengers never fired a pistol in their lives, though they are carrying them constantly.

"Some are carrying ammunition that is over a year old and so defective that it will not go off," he said.

"Some have been found to have the old-style black powder. The trigger pull of some pistols is so strong, about twenty-five pounds instead of six pounds, that accuracy with them would be impossible and they are dangerous. Many have no idea of how to clean or take care of a pistol and revolver.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

Younger Set Have Entries in Chestnut Hill Show

By BETTY ALDEN

THE youngsters are to have a large showing at the Chestnut Hill Horse Show, taking place next Tuesday on the Chestnut Hill grounds of the Longwood Cricket Club.

The committee in charge announces a record-breaking list of entries for the affair, many of them from smaller stables, which means that this year's show, the nineteenth annual one, will be the largest and best ever.

Of the "younger set" who have entered their mounts are the Misses F. Jeannette McGregor, Barbara Frost, Dorothy West, Elizabeth Hovey and Nancy Shaw, and S. H. Wolcott, Jr., Leverett Shaw and George S. West, Jr.

John P. Bowditch, I note, has entered five of his steeds, Babe, Redbud, Meadowbrook, Bamboo and Go On in the various classes. Another prominent entrant is Robert Gould Shaw, 2d, who hopes to win honors with Silver Heels and Ponsi in the polo ponies class. George S. West, who has charge of the show, is entering Jerry in the single horse shown to gig.

Others well known in society-sporting circles whose names are on the entry list are Mrs. Andrew Adie with Melody, Miss Lorraine Liggett with Gwydyr Bird, Play Boy, The Gormand, Winchester and Trowbridge Queen; Rosamond Adie with Sandy, Miss Gertrude Bradlee with Marcus, Safety First and Kotaseal, Francis Peabody with Cracker, Corsair, Eric, Dryar and Biscuit; Miss Rose L. Fessenden with Buck and Texas, and Dr. Freemand Allen with Chester and Talk of the Town.

Others who have entered their mounts for the show are Allen G. Howe, A. Franklin Goodwin, Miss Katherine Rotch, Vera Howell, Miriam E. McGregor, Norfolk Hunt Club, F. Murray Forbes, George B. Kimball, Isabella Grandin, Horatio Hathaway, Jr., Mrs. Gardiner H. Fiske, Edwin S. Webster, Jr., James J. Lee, Theodore P. Grosenor, Adnah Neyhart, John Parkinson, Lawrence J. Harrington, Henry A. King, Miss Nancy Hallowell, Miss Ruth Wellington, Brenton H. Dickson, 3d, Miss Pauline Fenno, Lothrop M. Weld, Miss Betty Dumaine, Elmer J. Bliss, Jr., and Miss Muriel Bliss.

9:30 a. m.—Children's driving pony class.
9:40 a. m.—Saddle ponies.
9:55 a. m.—Combination horses under 15.2.
10:15 a. m.—Polo ponies.
10:55 a. m.—Single horse, shown to gig.
11:05 a. m.—Saddle horses.
11:15 a. m.—Combination pony class.
11:40 a. m.—Novice saddle horses.
11:55 a. m.—Hunter classes.
12:30 p. m.—Pair of hunters.
2 p. m.—Saddle horses under 15.2.
2:15 p. m.—Harness ponies not exceeding 14.2.
2:35 p. m.—Children's horsemanship class.
2:55 p. m.—Pair of saddle horses.
3:10 p. m.—For teams of three hunters.
3:45 p. m.—Runabout horses.
3:55 p. m.—Saddle horses 15.2 and over.
4:20 p. m.—Harness tandem.
4:30 p. m.—Montgomery Rollins Memorial Cup for saddle horses.
4:45 p. m.—Combination horses 15.2 and over.
5 p. m.—Hunters (heavyweight).
5:30 p. m.—Nora Saltonstall Memorial Cup for qualified hunters.
5:50 p. m.—Ponies 15 hands and under.
6 p. m.—Open jumping class.

APROPOS of Miss Rose Fessenden and Gertrude Bradlee, both of whom are to exhibit in Tuesday's equine event—it was only recently that these two young women became engaged.

Earlier in the week Mr. and Mrs. Sewall H. Fessenden of Boston, Chestnut Hill and the North Shore announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Rose Lee Fessenden, to Edward Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forbes Bigelow (Susan Thayer), of No. 142 Chestnut street.

Rose Fessenden made her debut two Winter ago, and is a member of that year's Sewing Circle, as well as of the Vincent Club. She took a prominent part in "Now and Then," the Vincent Club show, given last month, as did two of her other sisters, Louise Fessenden, who played the part of the heroine, and Mrs. Frederick W. Rusk (Harriett Fessenden). Another sister is Mrs. Oliver Ames, Jr. (Caroline Fessenden).

Mr. Bigelow is a Harvard man of '21. His brothers are Henry D. Bigelow, who married Miss Barbara Wells, and now lives at Woodmere, L. I.; Chandler Bigelow, a sophomore at Harvard, and Nelson Bigelow, who is studying at Columbia. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Bradlee's engagement to Dr. Thomas Hinckley Lanman of Cambridge was announced by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tisdale Bradlee of Chestnut Hill earlier in the month. Miss Bradlee, who is a member of the 1917-18 Sewing Circle and the Vincent Club, is noted as a keen sportswoman and is a member of the Norfolk Hunt Club. Her fiance, a Harvard, '12, man, graduated from the Harvard Medical School in 1915 and is now on the surgical staff of the Children's Hospital.

YARN RESENTED BY MANAGER OF 'SALLY'

By FRED J. McISAAC.

Unless Sam Harrison, manager of the "Sally" company, changes his mind, he will bring suit against Frank Archer, vice-president of the Moxie company. When last seen Mr. Harrison was very indignant, and had made plans to substitute glasses for the Moxie paper cups distributed to the audience at "Sally" with water in them.

The trouble arose over an anecdote related by Mr. Archer to an admiring throng of Harrison's acquaintances.

GIVES CIGAR AWAY.

"Mr. Harrison is a great manager," said Mr. Archer. "All his life he has adhered to a set of principles which are unique, but have the merit of being his own. The other morning, about eight o'clock, I was crossing the Public Garden and I saw Harrison talking to the swanboat man. I was surprised to see him offer the swanboat operator a cigar, but I immediately recognized it as one I had given him a week before.

"Then he took a seat on the swanboat and was pushed leisurely about the lake. I was determined to see how long he would stay on that boat and I walked about an hour and a half before the boat drew up at the landing. Then Harrison drew from his pocket a beautiful photo of Marilyn Miller, star of "Sally," and showed it to the swanboat man.

"'Would you like it?'

"'You bet you.'

"'Well, give me back the cigar, and you can have it.'

"The exchange was made and Mr. Harrison continued on his way, serene in the knowledge he had lived up to his principles."

Mr. Harrison bases his denial of the whole story upon the declaration that Mr. Archer never gave him or anybody else a cigar.

AMHERST PROFESSOR ADDRESSES UNITARIANS

Dr. Albert Parker Fitch, professor of history and religion at Amherst, addressed an audience of ministers and Sunday school teachers at the Unitarian Anniversary Week Convention at Unity House. Dr. Fitch spoke on "Suggestions on Teaching the Old Testament" and said that no one could teach the Old Testament unless he learns a great deal about it from outside sources.

"The Old Testament gives the picture of a vanished economic, political and social order," he said. "It is not a book which one may casually read to find moral platitudes."

B. L. WINCHELL IS HEAD OF REMINGTON

New York, May 26.—Directors of the Remington Typewriter Co. today elected B. L. Winchell, formerly president of the Rock Island lines and the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Co., as president. Frank M. Kondolk, who accepted the presidency earlier in the year, with the understanding that he would be required to serve only until a successor was found, was named chairman of the board.

Girl Only Thinks She Is Blind; Denied Damages

Newark, N. J., May 26.—A person may have an eye perfectly sound in all respects, yet be unable to see out of it.

That was the conclusion reached here when Martha Mullins, eighteen, was denied compensation against the Standard Pearl & Glass Company.

Injured when a glass ball burst, the girl, it was testified, became seized with the idea that she was going blind. The optic nerve functioned, experts said, but it failed to register on the brain due to auto-suggestion. The girl merely convinced herself that she was blind in one eye.

PLAN TO SLAY WHITE CHILD AS SACRIFICE

By Universal Service

Havana, May 26.—The latest case of Voodooism and witchcraft as practiced in Cuba is the contemplated sacrifice of a human being, proposed to be held at Jovellanos, in the province of Natanzas, eighty-eight miles from Havana, where an epidemic of smallpox has decimated the negro population.

The gravity of the situation impelled the believers and their followers to plot the sacrifice of a young white boy or girl, as an offering to the African god Ye Naya and Ocu and at a meeting of the "Brujos" (witches), they separated with the intention of seeking a victim.

News of the plan leaked out and the authorities took steps to prevent its consummation.

High death rate among the negroes as a result of the epidemic, is believed to be responsible for the plan of the witches to appease the wrath of their African god.

SCOUTMASTERS ORGANIZE AS LIFE SAVERS

Scoutmasters in the four districts included under the Boston Boy Scout Council have formed a new organization to be known as the Metropolitan Boston Scoutmasters' Chapter of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps. This organization includes scoutmasters who have qualified as examiners.

Preston C. Hatch, scoutmaster of Troop 1 Boston organized at the Boston Y. M. C. A. building on Huntington avenue, is president of this chapter, and the other officers include: Otis T. Lockhart of Roslindale, vice president, William B. Hanlon of Troop 1 Boston, secretary-treasurer, Hans V. Kudlich, scout executive of the Fourth Boston District and camp director of the new Boston Scout Council camp at Middleboro, captain, Abe Snyder and George Noxon, of Troop 9 Boston, the Lincoln House troop, first and second mates.

The general purpose of the organization is to bring together all the scoutmasters who are qualified life savers, and to keep them informed of progress in life saving methods, as made by the American Red Cross, which will be handed on to the scouts under their charge.

A move is already planned by the chapter which will in all probability save lives this coming summer at Spring street, where two lives were lost within a few days recently by drowning following overturning of canoes. Under the leadership of William B. Hanlon, secretary of the new organization, a chapter of the life saving corps is to be formed among the men who own canoes kept at Spring street, and are they frequently during the summer. These men will be trained by Jack Wallace of the Y. M. C. A. swimming instruction staff.

WALKED FROM PACIFIC, SAYS BROCKTON SUSPEC

Brockton, May 26.—"It was not a bike," declared John Dennis when he was booked at police headquarters. "Just got in from California." He informed the officers that he had walked the entire distance. When searched, some cookies, bread, a bottle of water, a can opener, a cane and a jackknife were found on him. He had three suits on, one over the other. He was held for further hearing on May 31.

6 MORE SLAIN IN NEW IRISH DISORDERS

Belfast, May 26 (By the Associated Press).—Since Saturday last twenty-eight deaths from violence have occurred in Belfast. A 3000-ton collier, owned by a Belfast firm, was boarded at Dundalk last night by a dozen armed men, who held up the captain and crew, smashed the compass and threw a portion of the vessel's machinery overboard.

By International News Service.

Belfast, May 26.—The wave of violent death, which as rolling over Ulster claimed six victims in Belfast during the night, prevailed today in an armed camp. Barricades of sandbags and barbed wire entanglements are being erected in all the principal streets in the city proper and suburbs. The city is full of soldiers.

One special constable, two Protestant civilians and one unknown man were killed in night fighting. The unidentified man was attacked upon a bridge, beaten into insensibility, and his body thrown into the river.

Coalition Agreement Is Under Investigation

By DAVID M. CHURCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, May 26.—English officials today began examination of the Irish Coalition agreement enacted by Michael Collins and Eamonn De Valera to determine if it violates the Anglo-Irish Peace Treaty.

Arrangements were made for the Irish to meet Premier Lloyd George and other English signatories to the Treaty later.

Following the morning session, when Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill conferred with Arthur Griffith, E. J. Duggan and George Gavan Duffy, of the Irish Provisional Government, Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, gave the following exclusive statement to the International News Service:

We assured Mr. Churchill that the coalition agreement does not conflict with the Anglo-Irish treaty. We are hopeful of convincing the English signatories of this fact. It is probable, however, that there will not be a final settlement until the arrival of Michael Collins from Dublin."

CABINET MEMBERS SEEK RIGHT TO OFFER DEFENCE

Washington, May 26.—A growing demand swept Congress today for legislation permitting Cabinet members to appear on the floors of the Senate and House in defence of their records. On the heels of the fourth attack launched against Attorney-General Daugherty within a week, the movement gained support from both administration leaders and critics of present Cabinet members. It was declared by Daugherty's friends that the Attorney-General would easily vanquish his accusers if he were permitted to appear before the Senate in executive session.

TEACHERS BACK OF CHILD LABOR

That frothy lingerie that makes the "poor working girl" part with almost half her pay envelope!

Seventy-two youngsters, from five years to thirteen, in Pawtucket, sewed on the lacy edges and ran the narrow satin ribbon around the necks.

The finishing of underwear was one of the principal industries throughout Rhode Island which made use of 8,000 little slaves who, according to the Federal investigation of child labor in that State, completed recently, received a maximum wage of less than 10 cents an hour.

Margarita is eleven and an expert needlewoman, but her art yielded her only seven cents an hour, maximum as wages ranged from six to fifteen cents per dozen articles. Margarita's mother worked, too, many times both rising at 5 o'clock in the morning in order to put in several hours of work before the tot would leave for school.

CHILD OFTEN TIRED.

"Wouldn't this extra work make Margarita very tired at night?" the child's mother was asked.

"Sometimes," was the indifferent reply.

Margarita's cousin, a boy of twelve years, worked for several months in the early morning hours and after school at night on Navy underwear. The finishing process on this grade of work was simpler and many boys were thus employed. The boy received six cents per dozen garments finished.

One of the amazing revelations disclosed by the Federal investigation was the part of teachers and school officials in promoting this sort of work. Many teachers in Central Falls and Pawtucket frankly admitted that they had advocated the practice, both at school and at home—"to raise money for the Red Cross," they explained.

CALLS CHILDREN LAZY.

A Providence school teacher is charged with having said when questioned about the practice: "There is no danger of children being overworked in this district, the trouble is they are all too lazy."

Several others, equally frank, admitted they had kept the children after school each night for fifteen minutes to assemble rosaries, string tags, make chain fastenings and card snaps. One teacher placed on the blackboard the name of a local contractor who gave out snaps and rosary beads.

The teachers, however, were reluctant to discuss the matter today although two teachers in the foreign sections of the city admitted a knowledge that this work had been done.

"Funds raised in this way were all donated to the Red Cross and the relief of European war orphans," one of them said.

"The Red Cross and European relief?" queried the reporter. "How about that 'charity begins at home stuff?'"

"We are not in the field for suggestions," was the answer at a forty below temperature, and the reporter subsided.

A kindly seeming woman who mothers forty youngsters in Central Falls declared that the system was thoroughly obnoxious to her and cited instances of sheer exhaustion on the part of youngsters who, upon being questioned, declared they had been up late the night before and early in the morning assembling beads.

DENOUNCES OUTLAWS.

Unscrupulous manufacturers, it has been learned, took advantage of the "home work" system to defy the eight hour law.

"We have a slack season in our industry and when there is a rush period the girls like to take work home. They can't work overtime in the factories," was the boast of one of these.

In contrast to this attitude is the statement of E. C. Doherty, secretary and treasurer of the E. C. Greene Company, one of the leading jewelry concerns of Providence. "Every reputable jewelry manufacturer would like to see the situation cleaned up. They do not use the home work system themselves, and they cannot meet the production cost figures of these conscienceless outlaws, who have no overhead expense and who pay children two and three cents an hour for their work."

Eight youngsters under eleven years living on Broad street in Central Falls declared today that they had been engaged in home work until three months ago.

A. F. of L. Calls Child Labor Conference for June 1

Washington, May 26.—The American Federation of Labor got behind the movement to secure a constitutional amendment against child labor. It will sponsor a national conference, to be held June 1, at which the plan of campaign will be decided on, the announcement stated.

"The Supreme Court has twice decided against the children and we cannot look to anything from the Supreme Court. But we can and must secure a constitutional amendment so that the Supreme Court cannot again refuse freedom to the children. We must centre all possible effort on this final endeavor to emancipate childhood—a fight in which the Federation has been engaged since the first year of its existence."

Constitutional amendments have already been introduced in the Senate by Senator Johnson of California and in the House by Representatives.

WINIFREDIAN IS DELAYED HOUR BY FOG

Scores of friends of passengers on the Leyland liner Winifredian crowded docks at the Leyland terminal in East Boston today while the ship was held by foggy weather outside. Wireless advices had indicated that the liner would arrive last night and dock soon after sunrise today.

The most important of the throng who eagerly awaited the arrival of the liner was Joseph Henry Collier of No. 146 Spencer road, avenue Forest, whose bridegroom was on board and whose wedding has been postponed from the Wednesday morning to the noon service of the Winifredian.

The original schedule was upset by the ship going to the rescue of a helpless steamer at sea and losing her pilot St. Johns, N. F. The bride-to-be is Miss Ethel L. Rawles of Bristo, England. The wedding will take place tonight and the couple will leave for Williamsport, Md.

Of the eighty-six passengers aboard all but six were women and children. Mrs. E. B. McGhan, mother-in-law to Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the famous missionary of the North, arrived home from a four months' journey in the New Lands. She declared that the Labrador cures are infested by beggars.

CLAIM YOUNG GIRL WAS STRAPPED TO WASHTUB

New York, May 26 (By International News Service).—Evidence that twelve-old Pauline Larosa of Brooklyn was strapped to a stationary washtub and compelled to sleep on the barefloor of the kitchen with no coverings and was frequently beaten was given today when the child's mother, Frances Larosa, and her stepfather, Stephen Larosa, were arraigned charged with endangering the little girl's health. The stepfather was held in $1,000.

TRAP CHINESE SMUGGLED INTO U. S.

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, N. H., May 26.—A shipment of Chinese on the "underground" railway smuggling system, by which Orientals have been known to be run into this country from Canada, was intercepted today and five of them captured. Two others escaped.

The seven Chinese had been forwarded across Canada from the Pacific coast and according to the police here, had been sent from Montreal to Azear Carrier, a farmer, at East Hereford, Quebec.

The latter is alleged to have undertaken to run them across the border and deliver them at Boston at $700 a head. He was caught after he had run his automobile into a sand pit in an attempt to escape and was taken to Newport for arraignment before Customs authorities.

Approaching here today, Carrier discharged his passengers on the outskirts, telling them to walk through the town to a destination on the other side, as that his automobile might not be held up.

Police Officer Ryan, thinking the machine was on a run running up, watched it and saw it taking on the Chinese at the rendezvous and held up the loading.

He captured five of the men, some of them young others middle aged, while two others escaped. Examination of the car disclosed a lot of twenty-five bale of opium.

TRAIN OF 20 ENGINES STARTS FOR TEXAS

Philadelphia, May 26.—Ponderous snortings and chuggings at the Baldwin Locomotive plants at Eddystone today announced the departure for Texas of twenty oil burning locomotives in a solid train weighing over 3,000 tons. An impressive ceremony preceded the departure. Messages from Governor Sproul and President Harding were read and Senator George Wharton Pepper delivered an address. The shipment is the first of ice kind since 1925, when the Baldwin works sent a long train of locomotives for the New York Elevated Railroad. The present consignment is for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

3 CHILDREN LOSE LIVES IN A WELL

Statesboro, Ga., May 26.—Three children, aged two, four and five, of Foster Allen, were drowned in a well at their home near here. The father and mother were some distance from the house when they heard screams. Rushing home, they found one son who apparently had descended into the well to save the other three clinging to a rope in the water. This boy was rescued.

PICKETING IS ENJOINED AT NASHUA

By Associated Press.

Nashua, N. H., May 26.—The Superior Court today granted to the Nashua Manufacturing Company an injunction restraining its striking operatives from picketing and influencing and terrorizing workers and those who may become workers.

Judge William H. Sawyer ordered that the injunction be enforced until the close of the next term of court starting in September, when it is returnable for a hearing.

The action was directed against Horace A. Rivers, organizer of the United Textile Workers of America, sixty former employes of the company, and also Lowell Trades Union Local 1561, and against 1,000 and 1,400 of the United Textile Workers of America.

The process were served today by deputy sheriffs in this city and Manchester.

The mills of the Nashua Manufacturing Company had been closed for nearly three months by a strike in protest against a wage reduction of twenty per cent and an increase of work per hours from forty-eight to forty-four.

The company announced some days an intention to reopen the plant as soon as a sufficient number of operatives indicated their intent to return.

Governor Brown Calls Textile Strike Parley

Manchester, N. H., May 26.—Governor Albert O. Brown announced here today that he had issued invitations to the presidents and secretaries of all United Textile Workers' Councils in the State, the mayors and selectment of the twelve cities and towns throughout New Hampshire affected by the textile strike and the agents and superintendents of the mills affected by the present labor trouble to meet with him in Concord on Monday, May 29, to discuss means of bringing about a settlement of the controversy that has crippled general business in the Granite State for the past sixteen weeks.

$3,000,000 BASILICA FOR STE. ANNE BEAUPRE

Quebec, May 26.—A $3,000,000 basilica is to be erected at Ste. Anne De Beaupre to replace the historic one destroyed recently by fire, the Redemptorist Fathers announced today. It was one of those exquisite mornings in May. The balmy air was loaded with the perfume of apple blossoms and—well, anyhow, our old friend Sam and his little chum Goggles were fishing on the dock when they were interrupted by the arrival of John the Jollier and the rest of the Hash Hunters' Club. Without the slightest warning John proceeded to read the following sonnet or roundelay:

"Fireman, if it's quite convenient, after you have saved my child
Won't you lend us twenty dollars? With distress we're almost wild!
If we can't put on the feed bag pretty soon we'll 'ave to die!
We 'ave 'opes that Sam will 'elp us, he's an awful easy guy."

"Boys," replied Sam in a tone of cold hauteur, with a touch of insouciance, "shake a leg and get out of here. You're scaring the fish."

THOUSANDS BUY POPPIES OF GIRLS

"Buy a poppy, mister?"

Scores of girls shot the question at thousands of Bostonians today and thousands of poppies were sold.

It was Poppy Day, set aside by the recent allies as sacred to the dead and the wounded in the World War. The proceeds of the poppy sale today and tomorrow night, will be devoted to the relief of disabled veterans.

State Commander John MacDonald of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was in charge of the State-wide campaign. Auto trucks toured the city with singers, and girl volunteers to make sales. It was expected that 10,000 flowers would be sold by tomorrow night.

The hotels were covered today by women volunteers and there were small sales booths in the leading hostelries.

DEMANDS REPORT ON LOWER BEACH FARES

Protesting against the delay of the State Department of Public Utilities Representative Coleman L. Kelly of Dorchester today filed an order to compel the department to report on his petition for lower fares on the Nantasket Steamboat line. Mr. Kelly petitioned for a fare decrease two months ago.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, rinses thoroughly, and leaves the hair soft and fluffy, so that it dries quickly and evenly and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides it removes and loosens every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

"Use for home health" said our Doctor

"Dr. Green is so interested in all his patients. When Tim has had scarlet fever he tells us how important it was to keep the bed clothes and utensils used in her room thoroughly disinfected. We wanted everything Sulpho Nathol."

"And now that fever is all gone and Tim is as well as he was before leaving after his last visit, 'keep on using Sulpho Nathol around the house. It's an effective sanitary measure that safeguards the family against disease.'

"Doctors realize more than most people that prevention is better than cure. Keeping a house free from dust and dirt doesn't keep it free from germs. All the scrubbing and scouring in the world doesn't get rid of the germs that lodge and breed in floor cracks, in crevices and corners around plumbing, in garbage cans and sink drains, in dark attic corners, in cellars and around laundry tubs and goodness knows how many other places.

Sulpho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its clean, fresh odor doesn't linger. Sulpho-Nathol is safe. Though it is much stronger than carbolic acid, it is safe to have in the house as a cake of soap. A can of Sulpho-Nathol for the household needs there is nothing mussy or complicated about it. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean, cloudy pearly gray antiseptic solution that's ready for immediate use.

Sulpho-Nathol should be used regularly in mop water, in the washing water for garbage cans and as a sprinkle that keeps flies as well as odors away from such places. It should be poured down sink drains and sprinkled in the cellar. Of course, it should be used regularly around the bathroom fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl.

Your grocer, or druggist, sells Sulpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—Sulpho-Nathol.

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND GOSSIP

By FRIEDA DAVIS

WILL the movies casually jump the centuries and line up, after a comparatively short span of years, with the most advanced — as modern movements go — ideas of the theatre? Robert Kane thinks so. Benjamin de Casseres hopes so.

In his article, "Adrift in the Roaring Forties," appearing in the Theatre Magazine for June, Ben Jamin de Casseres brings up the question of the future of pictures. He ran into Robert Kane, general production manager of the Famous Players-Lasky Company, a few days ago and Kane remarked that the time is not far ahead when the "little" motion picture movement will be as much to consider as has been the "little theatre" movement for the stage.

"It is bound to come," Mr. Kane said at least Mr. de Casseres quotes him. "And it will have the same effect on pictures that the 'little theatre' movement has had on the spoken drama.

"Then will come the era of the artist, the highbrow. Think of screening Keats' 'The Eve of St. Agnes,' Shelley's 'Prometheus Unbound,' or some of the tales of Poe and de Maupassant!

"It will shock forever those who say the movies are not an intelligent medium. Pictures paints the way."

NAZIMOVA STARTED IT

AS a matter of fact, Madame Nazimova seemed destined to start the ball when she formed her own company and announced that she would make two red productions of Ibsen, Hauptmann and others who are not so popular with producers.

Mme. Nazimova

It was while she was editing the film of "Doll's House" that Madame Nazimova discovered that she had plenty of material for a five-reel production a decision with which I find I do not agree. "Doll's House" has been capitally handled as at the State this week—but the story itself is of two-reel calibre, not five-reel.

Nazimova next "Salome" in the new Wilde version now in reels in New York. At any rate, she has started the movement for better stories.

HEARD AT PARK STREET

TWO GIRLS, crowding into a Beacon street car at Park street the other day, found time between knees to discuss the movies.

"I see Vina Delmar's got a new picture called, 'They Like 'Em Rough.'"

"Yeh," her companion said.

"Yeh. I wonder if she does"

"Does what?"

"Like 'em rough."

"I dunno, but if she does she can try my subway ride every day."

RAY'S NEXT

CHARLES RAY is ready to start work on a new production after a two months' vacation. He will work on an adaptation of a James Whitcomb Riley poem, this time, "The Girl I Loved." The first of this type "The Old Swimmin' Hole" was one of his greatest successes.

"DEAR ME," FOR MADGE.

IN SPEAKING of Madge Kennedy a return to the screen the other day I mentioned the fact that her first story would be "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." Now comes word that a second story has already been chosen for the star. It is "Dear Me," the Luther Reed-Hale Hamilton comedy in which Hale Hamilton and Grace LaRue appeared at the Hollis Street Theatre last fall.

ARLISS STARTS WORK

GEORGE ARLISS has started work on his next picture, "The Silent Call" in which he will be supported by such well known players as Edward Earle and Ann Forrest. Arliss will be seen as a musician whose career is blighted by sudden deafness. Wasn't the famous dog story played by Strongheart called "The Silent Call"?

AWAITING SENTENCE OF DEATH, HANGS HIMSELF

Lockport, N. Y., May 26—John Kopewesta, thirty-four years old, found guilty of murder first degree in connection with the slaying of his wife on November 12 at Niagara Falls, committed suicide by hanging in his cell today. His body was found four hours before he was due to receive the death sentence. Kopewesta was found suspended from an iron rack that protruded above his bunk. He had obtained a quantity of fine broomstick wire. This he fastened to the iron rack and tied the other end around his neck. Then he stepped off the bunk.

Risks Rearrest to Return Loan and Curling Iron

Saranac Lake, N. Y., May 26—Mrs. Beatrice Jones, twenty-two years old, a former burlesque show girl, who escaped from the police while on a train on her way to Albion, where she was to serve a three-year sentence, risked recapture by returning to return a curling iron and some money she had borrowed from a hotel waitress.

Mrs. Jones, an old offender, was sentenced for her part in a street fight.

She left on a train for the Albion institution in the custody of a policeman. A mile friend followed in a high powered car. At Lacona Mrs. Jones jumped from a window of the train and escaped to the automobile. They are believed to be on their way to Canada.

AWARDED $8,000 FOR INJURIES FROM AUTO

Permanently injured Arthur Hopkins of Weymouth, 50 years old was awarded a $8,000 verdict by a jury at Dedham Superior Court today against Ella Young, executrix of the estate of George W. Young of Weymouth. He was hit by Young's automobile in the streets of Brockton.

DAILY SHORT STORY

THE CONQUEST OF ONE

By Lily Wendel

"SEE here, Reva le bygones. Consider the future. Look at it from another angle. Want to work all your life? You'll never be much of a success at business, and you know it. You need a man to protect you, and I am your husband. Besides, you're lonely here in the city—I know it. I can read it on your face. Your homesick, don't deny it."

"Yes, sometimes I am," she admitted.

"Toby misses you, Reva. He goes over the whole house hunting you."

Quick tears filled her eyes. "I wanted to take him along, but he was better off at home. I know Char ote is good to him."

"The piano is there waiting for Nobody's touched it since you left."

"I miss my music dreadfully."

"Your orange tree is blooming."

"I know. Once I had twenty plants pushing her plate away. "How about your Ridge Club? And the other Club? You used to be so interested. Reva! You're coming back with me."

LOOKED GRAVE.

She looked at him gravely.

"There is much that I miss terribly, Howard. I know it is going to be a long struggle to get a foothold in the business world."

"Began her. I considered well before I left you and that took courage—courage to part from my home, from all the little things a domestic woman loves, courage to go among strangers to earn my living, and courage to leave you," she added hesitatingly.

"And I have found you and am going to take you home," he smiled.

She shook her head. "I want to come back but I have the courage to resist you. That is why I came to lunch with you, to tell you that. Won't you ask for the check. I must get back to the office."

Reva's face began slowly to be drawn in rugged lines. "You have the courage of a valiant soldier ready to endure all the hardships, ready for years of struggle. It will take a great deal of your reserve strength in nerves and endurance—more than that, it will tax your patience to the extreme, it will call for a tremendous amount of brain strength. Take all this and more of expended energy—no, take only half of it and use it on me! Wait—not in entering to me but in schooling me—in showing me, leading me in the right road.

AMOUNT OF WORK.

"Consider what a result such an amount of work would bring! It takes courage for you to stay here in the city and work your way to ultimate success but what an enormous amount of courage it would take to come back to conquer the task I opened hopeless, to take up the problem you refused to solve. It can be done—especially when the husband is willing to learn—but it would take courage!" He leaned forward anxiously, nervously, each word thought-reading was wrung from a heart actually suffering.

"It will take the courage of a hero," he whispered imploringly. "but since you will fight here won't you fight for me?" Reva, will face the struggle together, and we're bound to win—it will be you and I against the arrogant, vain, overbearing lawyer and we'll make a name for him! Have you the courage to try?"

She opened her brown eyes wide and answered softly, "Where there is love there is also unbounded courage."

Little Boy Blue come blow your horn
And cheer up the little folks all forlorn.

Toot it so loudly 'twill bring them shouting—
All ready—WHOOPEE for the Children's Outing.

Moxie-Land Jingles, 1922

Dear Kiddies:

Get ready! All the big boys and girls of Moxie-Land have talked it over and we have again appointed our Welfare Committee to take charge of the big Moxie Fleet of trucks and automobiles that will help take you flying over the road to Nantasket on the Annual Outing for the Crippled, Orphaned and Destitute Children of Boston, Wednesday morning, June 7th, in the Big Day.

Ever since the first outing in 1908 we've been doing it. We've had a lot of fun. And under the auspices of the Boston Automobile Dealers' association and the personal management of Chester I. Campbell, these outings have given one day of pure joy to greater and greater numbers of little children not free from city streets to play by the open sea.

On June 7th—the outing day—this year the Moxie Company will withdraw all of its automobile and motor truck sales and delivery service for a radius of 30 miles about Boston. This will enable us to send the entire Moxie Fleet to Nantasket Beach loaded with laughter and little children. With the procession will go a truck-load of the famous beverage on ice, and thousands of the Moxie Cold-grams and jim-cracks for the children—candy, Moxie, children and all under the guardianship and watchful supervision of the same Moxie Welfare Committee that has been doing this same thing for years.

We must ask our Moxie dealers within this 30-mile radius to co-operate with us for the sake of the little boys and girls of Boston, and place their orders for delivery before Wednesday, June 7th—day after—because the withdrawal of our fleet of trucks from service even for one day in June affects the delivery of about twenty tons of Moxie.

Yours for the fun of it,

THE MOXIE COMPANY,
By F. M. Archer

P. S.—To Moxie Dealers Everywhere: There's a "Moxie Display" on now. Telephone your Moxie jobber and be sure you get a chance to sign a Moxie "Order Form" at once. And one more thing, we must have a thousand calendar of Moxie "samples" returned at once. Please return your empty case today.

RICHES OF U. S. PERILOUS, SAYS B. U. EXPERT

"A nation that finds itself wealthy as the natural consequence of its character and hard work is in a dangerous position. It is at the parting of the ways. If it allows the pleasures and frivolities that come from material wealth to obsess it, disaster is inevitable.

"We are in that position in America."

So, in substance, pointed out Professor Harold Whitehead, head of the department of sales relation at the Boston University College of Business Administration, speaking before the Theta Tau honor society of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the Hotel Lenox on "Some Modern Problems of the Business Man."

"While a nation works to and for ideals, it prospers but as soon as it become materialistic in its aims it slowly but surely sinks in the list of world powers. All history has shown that. Economic and political it dwindles in importance.

"It is questionable if a graver and more significant duty devolves upon our young men than to realize that success is something to obtain and not to obtain. This is going to live up to a high moral and spiritual stand and not living down to a dollar and cent policy.

"If the young man entering the arena of business will live up to and fight for, the principles that animated those noble men and women who came here to establish a new standard of life, our country will continue to progress in service, power, prosperity and happiness."

LYNN SHOEMEN EXPECT BOOM; 400 RETURN

Eighteen Lynn shoe factories which had laid off employes of cutting departments, 400 men in all, resumed operations today under new wage settlement brought about by the State Board of Arbitration.

The settlement involves a 13 per cent cut in wages instead of 20 per cent and a better agreement as to hours. It will be the Lewis manufacturers say of rescuing the industry which has suffered through Western competition. Owing to strike troubles being experienced by Western shoe manufacturers Lynn agents today said they planned to bring back the shoe industry in Lynn to its old standing. The general good feeling now existing between workers and manufacturers as a result of the settlement will be a basis for a great revival in the trade, manufacturers said.

The settlement effected by Lynn Board of Conciliation and the State Board of Arbitration welcomed by workers today. The situation had threatened to throw thousands out of work as the laying off of workers meant that when the material in hand was used up, cases in all departments would be thrown out of work.

URGES COMMISSION TO BOOM PORT OF BOSTON

An order providing for the formation of a special commission to investigate shipping facilities of the port of Boston and to study methods for boosting the port was filed in the House by Representative William H. Hearn of East Boston. The commission would consist of seven members of the Legislature.

BOSTON HAS TAKEN THE AIR LONG ENOUGH WITHOUT A LARGE AND UP-TO-DATE LANDing field! What more ideal site could one ask than the large filled-in area east of Jeffries' Point, East Boston? The photo-diagram suggests how it would look finished. It has every advantage—spacious, quickly reached and is easy to see from the air. The Chamber of Commerce wants it, the army is willing to co-operate and the Legislature has appropriated $35,000 to clean up the field. What's the monkey wrench in the works? Let's go!\ The postoffice department refuses to give Boston aerial mail service because of inadequate landing facilities.

WITH THE EAST BOSTON LANDING FIELD A REALITY, BOSTON COULD EASILY BECOME THE air terminal of the Northeast! Gen. Clarence R. Edwards has labored industriously for the project and his air officer, Major Edwin S Lyon, has devoted weeks to furthering the plan. The Chamber of Commerce started the ball rolling. Bostonians could reach New York within two hours. It would open up freight and passenger-carrying possibilities of great importance. The map shows the easy accessibility of the largest cities and the directions of the air routes. The army has agreed to give two hangars and possibly two planes.

TOOK DOWN U. S. FLAG IN SYRIA, SAYS CRANE

Paris, May 26—"Injudicious talk" by Charles R. Crane, whom President Taft recalled as United States minister to China, provoked trouble in Syria, foreign office officials said today, but they had no information regarding his being sentenced to 20 years by a French military court in Syria.

Mr. Crane said an incident had occurred between the United States consul at Damascus, Syria, and the French military authorities before Mr. Crane's arrival, when the consul hauled down the American flag pending an apology from the French.

"We have a true American Southerner as Consul at Damascus," Mr. Crane said. "Certain circumstances arose before my arrival there in which the American Consul hauled down his flag, took down his shield and refused to have any further relations with the French authorities until they apologized.

"Three or four days went by and the French became very uneasy. A sort of an apology was made, which our Consul refused to accept. Then a more formal one was sent which he did accept, and resumed relations.

Mr. Crane expressed himself plainly to the Mandate Commission of the League of Nations council in Geneva. He said the Syrians wanted complete independence, and failing that, preferred the United States take the mandate over the country.

Mr. Crane said he was confident the report of his conviction was an error. He added:

"My reception by the people of Damascus was entirely friendly. Whatever demonstration there was to make me understand their feelings against the French mandate were stronger than ever. They hoped I could get their message out.

"There was no rioting, but such demonstrations as were of daily occurrence on the streets in Cairo."

GENERAL STRIKE IN ROME LASTS ONE DAY

Rome, May 26 (By the Associated Press).—The general strike in Rome, which was called by the Committee of Proletarial Defence yesterday as a protest against disorders the night before at San Lorenzo, was called off today. The strike resulted in inconvenience to thousands now in Rome attending the International Eucharistic Congress, as all transportation facilities were paralyzed. No newspapers were published.

FOSTER PARENT ASKS ARREST OF MOTHER

Providence, May 26.—A legal battle for the possession of seven-year-old Marie Rita Van Leuven, was started today by her foster mother, Mrs. Walter Van Leuven, when a warrant was asked of the Rhode Island authorities for the arrest of Mrs. William Payne, South Manchester, Ct., the natural mother of the child.

Mrs. Van Leuven charges that Mrs. Payne with another woman and four men in an automobile truck kidnaped Marie Rita while the girl was on her way to school and carried her to South Manchester.

Accompanied by a sister, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Van Leuven a widow went to South Manchester, where a dramatic scene took place when the kidnaped child saw her adopted mother.

"Please, please, mama," the girl pleaded, "take me away from these dreadful people back to Providence."

LEGALLY ADOPTED.

The tears coursed down the cheeks of Mrs. Van Leuven as she told of her talk with the child in the home of the Paynes.

"Marie Rita loves me," she said. "How could it be otherwise? I and my dead husband adopted her when she was but a year old and a baby in the poorhouse where her mother had been forced to place her. The State took charge of her and turned her over to us. Then we went to court and formally and legally adopted her, her mother resigning all her natural rights.

"The baby was born in the Rhode Island Lying in Hospital, the expense attending her birth being paid for by her father, who, however, later refused to have anything to do with the girl or the mother, who was then Miss Muirhead.

"When we get to South Manchester yesterday, Rita was not in, but she was sent for, and as soon as she saw me she flung her arms about my neck and began crying. I cried and so did Mrs. Payne. I think even Captain of Inspectors Ahern of Providence, who went down with me, cried also.

ABANDONED BY MOTHER.

"I wanted Mrs. Payne to agree to let the child stay in a Connecticut institution until the courts rule on the case, but she refused. The South Manchester police would not interfere.

"But I am going to fight for Rita with the last cent I have or can make. She is mine. The courts gave her to me."

Special Notice to Window Shoppers

They all look good in the windows, but don't buy clothes on show-window evidence alone. Window displays show styles and prices, but they can't tell you very much about quality. That's something that can only be ascertained by a closer inspection than the window permits.

We like to have you look in our windows. But we like better to have you come in and examine our goods and compare them with what you can get elsewhere at the price.

Before you exchange your good money for our good clothes, you ought to have something more than mere window evidence in proof of our claim to greater value-giving.

Kuppenheimer Good Clothes

To the window-shopper's casual glance these look very much like ordinary suits, but close examination discloses plenty of evidence of superiority which is fully substantiated by their long and satisfactory service. If we knew of any clothes that represented better value for the money than these we would feature them instead.

EXPECT CUT IN PASSENGER RATES

By International News Service.

Washington, May 26—Lower passenger fares on the railroads will follow the sweeping cuts in freight rates, high government officials declared today. A strong minority of the Interstate Commerce Commission maintains that lower passenger fares are essential to larger revenues from the transportation system.

People are not doing much traveling now because of high rates. This was stated by Interstate Commerce Commission figures today, revealing that passenger traffic on all railroads in the United States is 7 per cent of passenger miles below normal.

There also is strong belief at the commission that the railroads should issue again the popular mileage book at a reduced rate of fare. The commission members believe this would stimulate travel and raise the earnings of the railroads.

The decision on freight rates which is supposed to be out in a few days is not also for the benefit of the railroads. While the members of the commission are sympathetic in the opinion that the railroads are entitled to share more in the profits they are not of the opinion that an increase in rates will solve the railroad problem.

Give Wage Decisions Regardless of Freight Cut

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 26—Wage decisions by the United States Railroad Labor Board affecting more than 400,000 men in the railroad maintenance of way departments will be made independent of the rate cuts by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to an announcement by Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board.

Scales for some classes of employes were formulated before the decision of the commission was known he said.

All decisions by the board will be announced simultaneously, Mr. Hooper insisted. He declined to indicate what action he would take should the commission decide that no reductions would be made in proportion to the rate cuts, as demanded by the roads.

BOSTONIANS RETURN ON CUNARD LINER SAMARIA

After a smooth and speedy voyage of less than seven and a half days from Liverpool the Cunard liner Samaria arrived in the lower harbor and docked at her pier at East Boston.

Splendid weather was reported all the way from Queenstown. Among prominent Bostonians aboard was Miss Margaret Greenwood of the Back Bay. With Miss Miriam Butler she toured Europe, including a trip up the Mediterranean.

DIVORCE GIVEN WIFE OF KISSING MINISTER

Mrs. Bertha A. MacEwen has been granted a divorce in Baltimore from Rev. Ernest H. MacEwen, Baptist minister who was compelled to leave his parish in Cheshire, Berkshire County, some time ago, after being accused of kissing two girls who had just joined his church.

The decree was awarded to the minister's wife on grounds of gross insults and abandonment. She was given the custody of her children, $15 a week alimony and $150 counsel fees.

In his evidence Mrs. MacEwen testified that her husband had been in the habit of visiting women of his parish when they were in negligee and that he had frequently received love letters from women.

After the Cheshire episode, she testified she had forgiven him, but that after a month, during which he refused to speak to his family, he had left her. The MacEwens had been married for twenty four years.

BOSTON COLLEGE HAMMERS TWO PITCHERS AND BEATS YALE

DARLING STARS WITH HOMER AND TRIPLE

New Haven, Ct., May 26.—Boston College, which has humbled Yale in football and hockey, yesterday took home a clean-cut baseball victory by an 11 to 7 count. The Eagles hammered two Yale pitchers, Peterson and Hickey, heavily.

Darling starred in the bombardment with a homer and triple, while Wilson registered a circuit clout, and Eddie Phillips a three-base poke. Eight passes by the Eli twirlers facilitated the passages around the corners for the visiting collegians. Steve Patten of B. C. was also wild and was found by Yale for 12 safties.

The fielding of Whalen and Captain Aldrich led the rival nines in intensity. In the fifth Whalen retired the Yale side with a trio of clever assists.

Although Yale scored first, Warren tallying in the second on his pass, Eddy's out and Dan Kelley's single, Boston sewed up the contest in the third on a single and double the same inning by Palmer, a single by Patten, passes to Tom Phillips and Whalen, singles by Darling and Comerford, and Ed Phillip's two-baser, combined with an error by Peterson.

Darling's homer in the seventh into the right field bleachers was the longest hit ever made on Yale field.

WALK STRAIGHT CLUB TO OPEN NEW GROUP

The new Walk Straight Club of the Boston Y. M. C. A., which has developed into one of the most popular movements yet inaugurated by the "Y," has decided to introduce an innovation. It is to form a second division group especially for the benefit of men who have foot trouble.

This group will meet in the gymnasium at the Huntington avenue "Y" building at 3 o'clock every Saturday afternoon and will receive instruction and exercise under direction of an expert.

MARBLEHEAD TEAM TO PLAY IN SOUTH BOSTON

The strong Marblehead A. A. will play Kelly's South Boston All Stars at Christopher Lee playgrounds, South Boston, Sunday afternoon.

The Marblehead A. A. has for the past seven years had one of New England's strongest semi-pro teams. This year arrangements have been made to make it stronger than ever, being composed of the best players which can be found. Games are wanted for twilight and Sunday away from home. Write G. E. McCormack, No. 42 Orne street, Marblehead.

WINCHENDON FANS PLAN "WITT DAY" AT FENWAY

The fans of Winchendon are making arrangements for a "Witt Day" in honor of the Bay State boy who is playing great ball for the Yanks. It has been decided to hold it on June 20, when the Yanks will visit Fenway Park again. The Chamber of Commerce is back of the project.

HARVARD'S NINE STARTS FOR PRINCETON

The Harvard varsity baseball team will leave today for Princeton to play the second game of their series with the Tigers.

It is claimed at Princeton that when Harvard defeated Princeton last Saturday at Soldiers Field the Orange and Black diamond stars were in a slump. It is also claimed that since Princeton lowered the colors of the strong Lafayette team last Wednesday that Jack Slattery and his gang of Crimson stars will not be able to walk away with an other 13 to 1 victory.

HARVARD TENNIS TEAM BEATS PENNSYLVANIA

The Harvard varsity tennis team defeated the Pennsylvania team, 5 to 1. On account of the rain the team had to move from the open Jarvin Field courts at Cambridge to the enclosed courts of the Longwood Cricket Club. Batchelder of Harvard was the only member of the team to lose his match.

CAMBRIDGE LATIN BOWS TO ARLINGTON ON TRACK

The Arlington High School track team easily defeated Cambridge Latin, 50 to 23 on Spy Pond Athletic Field, Arlington, yesterday, capturing the first place in every event. The race of the day was the 220-yard dash, in which Hardy of Arlington nosed out Sheehey of Cambridge at the tape.

NEW SWIMMING CLASS FOR BOYS AT THE "Y"

The Boys' Division of the Boston Y. M. C. A. under direction of R. W. Tapp, director of physical education of the division, has arranged a big campaign for the purpose of teaching to swim, free, boys who have never learned the valuable art.

The campaign will be in progress from June 1 to June 16, inclusive.

GIRL ATHLETES HARD AT WORK FOR BIG MEET

Edith Monroe

Y. W. C. A. girls who do brilliant work in the all girl meet on June 10 may participate in the international women's meet in Paris in August according to an announcement by Miss Anita Tarbell, following the receipt of a letter from Dr. H. H. Stewart of New Haven, chairman of the National Women's Track Committee.

Dr. Stewart's letter states that, on account of the fact that Y. W. C. A. girls were not able to enter the track out for the American team at Manamonock, he will save places on his team until after the Harvard stadium meet.

Not more than one or two places are expected, on account of the fact that Dr. Stewart is drawing on every part of the country for his team material.

Miss Edith Monro, physical director of the Cambridge Y. W. C. A., is coaching a strong team for the meet.

Entries for the meet close next Wednesday. The cities which have entered up to date are as follows: Albany, Bangor, Boston, Buffalo, Brockton, Cambridge, Hartford, Holyoke, Lewiston, Manchester, Nashua, Newark, New Bedford, Newton, Pawtucket, Portland, Rochester, Lawrence, Haverhill, Lowell, Springfield, Worcester, Providence.

PRINCETON PICKED TO WIN

By CHARLES E. PARKER

Princeton is the pick.

One first, three seconds three thirds, three fourths and a tie for another fourth, are the places allotted to Tiger athletes in the accompanying prognostications of the outcome of the forty-sixth annual track and field meeting of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A., which gets underway at the Harvard Stadium at three o'clock this afternoon.

It was tough picking. Never in the long history of the meet have so many colleges teams appeared as real rivals for the team championship, never have the events presented such evenly matched fields and that the accompanying table may be scrambled all over the Stadium greensward, enabling any one of five other teams to grab the much prized cup, is distinctly within the range of possibility.

California, winner of the title last year and with a much larger team for campaigning honors this year, may prove a repeater, Cornell, with a nicely balanced array of track and field men cannot be counted out of it until the final event is scored, Leland Stanford, with its wonder man, Glenn Hartranft, and a batch of other capable performers, is very, very much in the running while Yale and Pennsylvania, each with a number of star athletes, have outside chances of nosing into the lead position.

But if things progress according to Hoyle, or very nearly according to that popular author, Princeton will win the meet.

Princeton Has Several Who Are Almost Certain Scorers

In addition to the following almost certain scorers on the Tiger team, McKim in the sprints; Stevenson in the 440; Johnson in the 880; Thompson in the high hurdles; Taylor in the low hurdles; Troup in the high jump; Lourie in the broad jump; Thompson was in the shotput; Baker in the hammer throw, and Thompson once more in the discus throw, Princeton has several athletes who can't be eliminated until the points are counted.

Lourie is a very good man in the century, Stevenson and Ford can travel a fast furlong, Hurrell is not unknown in the quarter-mile field; Leh is a good half-miler. Conger is an excellent one mile runner; Massey is easily a hurdle possibility; both Thompson and Gray can broad jump well; Smith has done 12 feet in the pole vault; Barclay and Spaulding have been close to the marks achieved by some of the best shot putters. Gaines and Emery can toss the javelin better than a lot of folks, and Emery is no slouch with the discus.

Only Two Can Be Considered as Additions

But the weeks rest in a meet for the stars, and whereas in other years such secondary strength would have stood the Tiger team in excellent stead, only Magee and Conger can be considered with reason as possible additions to the Tigers listed on the table.

It is because the meet is a meet for the stars that Cornell, California and Leland Stanford drop a notch below Princeton in the predicted point score. All three possess stars, but not in the Princeton quantity. Cornell and California also are well supplied with secondary strength, the Pacific Coast institution having brought a number of men East for the sole purpose of picking up points that other rivals might easily drop, but it will take genuine stars all along the line to allow such secondary material to gather many counts.

Kirksey May Make the Stanford Team Stronger

Leland Stanford may become still more of a menace to the Tigers than it is shown to be in the table provided Morris Kirksey, last year's 100-yard dash champion is "right." Kirksey pulled a muscle three weeks ago, but the chance of his recovery from that injury was considered strong enough to cause Coach Templeton to bring him East. If in tomorrow's trials he proves to be the speedster of last year he can put his team very much in the running with the Tigers, and the points he could acquire in the two dashes might enable the Stanford array to capture the meet.

Because of his doubtful condition, Kirksey has not been granted a place in either sprint.

Kirksey is not the only one who may juggle the dope.

If Coach Tom Keane of Syracuse elects to start Allan Woodring in the 440 instead of confining his efforts to the century and furlong, a whole lot could happen to the quarter mile list, for Woodring, at the Penn relays, trawled that distance in 47 4-5 seconds, which is a full second faster than that registered by any of the five appearing in the table.

Then again, if Coach Lawson Robertson of Pennsylvania elects to use Larry Brown in the one mile run instead of the 440 and Scott wants another record might result. Brown has done 4 minutes 18 seconds for that distance which is faster time than any of the preliminary milers have shown in competition this season.

Athletes Who Must Be Granted Chances of Scoring

In addition to the probable place winners named in the accompanying table, the following athletes must be granted chances of scoring in their respective events:

RUTH PUT OUT OF GAME

By ARTHUR ROBINSON

New York, May 26.—Ajax defied merely lightning, but at the Polo Grounds yesterday Babe Ruth defied first an umpire and then a good section of the crowd who saw the Yanks beat the Washington Senators, 6 to 4.

Rain fell during the game, and there was the rumble of thunder distinct. Babe chose to defy the umpire instead of the lightning and he was put out of the game.

A suspension and fine, perhaps not so severe as the one which Judge Landis imposed upon him, are expected to follow.

In the third inning the Babe drove a low, sizzling single to center. Sam Rice, the Washington center fielder, fumbled momentarily, and the Babe embarked on a dash to second.

Rice recovered the ball and threw hurriedly to Stanley Harris, the Senator's second baseman. The throw was accurate. Ruth dived for the bag feet first and threw up a cloud of dust.

Doc Hildebrand, umpiring at second, crouched over the base to make the decision on the play and waved the Babe out.

The home run king called upon the gods of the game to bear witness to the umpire's blindness and bad judgment, and in the same motion leaped to his feet, cap in hand, and threw a fistfull of sand into Hildebrand's face.

"You're out of the game. Git to the showers."

The Babe went first to the Yankee bench. The crowd was in an uproar. There were a few cheers for the umpire and many jeers for the Babe.

A spectator behind the Yankee dugout is said to have called the Babe "a big bum," and the latter vaulted to the concrete roof of the Yankee dugout and scrambled into the stand over a group of fans to get at his tormentor.

The crowd parted as the Red Sea before Moses to make way for the Babe. Ruth climbed over seven rows of seats and went half way up into the stands after his quarry. The offending fan, in the meantime had beaten a hasty retreat and the Babe pursued him.

TIE FOR FIRST PLACE BY WOMEN

By F. G. THAYER

An unexpected turn in the leadership of the Women's Golf Association of Boston in the last of their bi-weekly matches yesterday brings the North and South Shore teams in a tie for the championship.

Both teams have won the same number of points as Middlesex but the last named has met four reverses while the other two teams have been defeated but three times.

A play-off is necessary and will be arranged for, according to schedule, on some neutral course before June 1.

It is possible that Middlesex may be in the play off as the original pair disclosed that the team which won the most matches would win the championship. Middlesex played one match on a rainy day when the other teams did not play.

(Filene's—Apology to K. C. B.)

It isn't monkey glands
That make a man
Step lively
Down the street
These spring mornings—
Nor is it
The number of vitamines
He had
In his morning coffee.
It is Spring,
A disease which affects
Some one way
And some another.
The poet erupts,
The golf player
Quite loses his mind,
The impressionable young man
Is affected
In the regions
Of his heart—
But all recover,
Even the writer,
Who is sorely tempted
To stray into
An attempt at An Ode to Spring.

But must confine himself
To directing attention
To the green foliage
On grass and trees
And to the birds,
Whose plumage
Is never so bright
As in the spring.
In fact all nature
Puts on new clothes
And spruces up—
And the man
Who steps jauntily
Down the street
Will step a lot jauntier
And inspire
A lot more respect
And walk a lot more erect
For being attired
In good clothes—
The kind we sell
From thirty-five dollars up.
WE THANK YOU.

MICKEY MAY REQUIRE STRETCHER BEARERS

By JACK CONWAY.

Pal Reed

"Give me the bird with the knockout drop in each hand," said the man with the diamond horseshoe in a prayerful tone as he play fully rested his feet upon the sport desk to day. "That's why I'm going to be right down front with dynamite in my eyes when Pal Reed and Mickey Walker start whirling punches at each other at the Arena A. C.'s show at the Boston Arena Monday night

"They call this Reed person the modern Stanley Ketchel. I don't know whose Remington coined that one, but it's darn good. I dropped in at the Arena the other night and saw Reed sink the good ship Latzo in a couple of rounds

"Pal's terrific punching power sort of crossed me up. You see, I had rested my lamps on Latzo the night he walloped Nate Siegal at Braves Field. And I had it all figured out how any bird who could toss Nate around should also be able to take Reed. Then Pal buried his left in the solar plexus or some such place, and I was out $10. I thought I was taking a sucker and I bet ten beers on Latzo.

Store Teeth Fell Out When Reed Scored

"When Reed put over his big wallop he jarred me so much that my store teeth flopped out into the beer. He reminded me of the night Stanley Ketchel got peeved and flattened our own Porky Flynn.

"Somebody must have given Latzo a bum tip. He was an awful fool to stand up and punch with Reed. I guess I also didn't win any medals when I dropped my ten-spot on the miner.

"I hope to get my dough next Monday night, when Reed takes a fling at Walker. I'm going to train along with Pal. Any bird who can knock my Wools with neat chopper right out of my mouth by the echo of his punches, has my vote every time. It's a sucker who makes the same mistake twice.

"Reed is one of those guys who not only can hit, but who also keeps going forward every second he is in the ring. How are you going to defend such a rollicking Wop, tailor? He's sure to bust you on the beezer sooner or later

Says Walker Punches Short Like Jack Dempsey

"I know I'm going to get a flock of excitement for my money. That Walker person has busted out with a couple of victories here in Boston. Nate Siegal and Johnny Griffin both fell by the wayside, who, they tried to upset the local ecstasy.

"Mickey is quite a boxer. And how he can sock. He doesn't swing like Babe Ruth He cuts his wallops in short much like Jack Dempsey. I wouldn't give a nickel for a guy who swings 'em from the floor. The boys who get results punch short and straight to the mark.

"Can you picture the excitement when Walker and Reed start in there in the center of the ring and swap blows? It will make a reunion of a couple of dozen pies look like a bunch of schoolboys meeting

"Guess I'll drop up to the Arena office at No 28 Court street and

MARBLE BATTLE A HIT WITH KIDDIES

This is the day of novelties and in keeping up with the time the American has jumped to the front with the latest thing that the "kids" were ever offered

Joseph Cohen

Just think of it a contest all to themselves, to be decided on the Common, before a throng of people, and the winner to be matched with the best players in the country

That is the story of the "Marble Contest," the first with which the "kids" of New England ever were honored. That the youngsters are eating it up, is best illustrated by the large number of entries that are flowing into the sport department.

What about those young fellows in the suburbs? Are they timid about competing against the class of the respective sections of Boston or is it because they think that the contest is limited to the local "kids"?

Suburban athletes have never been found wanting in any branch of sport and it is to be hoped that the youngster element will jump at the opportunity of displaying their ability at the popular "aggie" game

Remember boys, ability to play marbles is the first outward sign of an athlete Make the rounds of the star athletes of yesterday and today, and you will find that almost every one got his first sport thrill battling over a game of marbles.

Marble Editor—Have been reading about your marble contest and it amused me to read the stuff that some of those kids had to say about themselves. I don't care to use that kind of hot air, so, shall just ask to it is great to have a contest for the be entered in your contest. I think kids and hope it proves a success.

Respectfully yours,
Joseph Frank, East Boston.

BLUE SERGE SUIT TO ORDER $17.75

One of Rhode Island's leading mills make a trade with me where I take fifty pieces of Blue Serge for spot cash. I don't claim these goods are $40 value because I don't know by what standard $40 value might be measured in clothing. I do say that they are 13 to 14 oz. in weight, double and twisted worsted both ways, absolutely all wool, and no tailor in the country advertises this make of goods under $40 for a suit of clothes.

I don't care if you are sixty around the breast, I am going to turn these fifty pieces of Blue Serge in the next thirty days, and would suggest your calling or sending a 2c stamp for samples and simple system of self measurement and I will make a suit to your measure that I can positively guarantee for wear and service.

MACKMEN OUT FOR THE FLAG

By NICK FLATLEY.

Connie Mack thinks that he will have quite a ball club as soon as his pitchers get in shape. A peek at the standing would incline you to think the those fingers must be in supershape, but evidently it's not so. The boys are just rounding into form, we fear. If that's so it's likely to be a rough year for the boys in the A. L.

Connie has five veterans, in a baseball way of speaking, who are getting into their own. Bush, Mails, Hasty, Harris, Naylor and Moore. He has one young south paw, Heimach, who looks as good as anybody. His latest performance was to beat the Tigers in a thirteen-inning struggle.

Ty is child is a product of the New Jersey sandlots and stepped into the Philly lineup without any previous baseball experience at all. He made his debut here in Fenway as a relief pitcher, in the opening series of the year. For four innings he pitched fine baseball and made a bunch of stops that stamped him a real athlete.

The pitchers we have mentioned didn't get in shape, because the Macks had a very bad time down South this Spring. They trained at Jacksonville, Texas, the home of Texas Jack Barry. 'Twas so bad down there that even the infielders and pitchers had to wear automobile workers' caps. And you can't learn to play baseball that way.

Now that a month of real campaigning is in the past, the Philadelphia troupers are ready to go. That's what they say and believe and there's no reason to think they're not the real power to their surprising start. Connie Mack has four leaders for several years but a people never had failed themselves.

After experimenting for weeks with batteries, Mr. Mack finally pulled a couple of old timers and they have been the mainstay of the pitching staff

RUPERT HUGHES' GREATEST NOVEL

THE STORY SO FAR

DESTINY had dealt strangely with beautiful young Remember Steddon, daughter of a Massachusetts clergyman. She had given her love to Elwood Farnaby, with whom she sang in the choir but he was unable to marry her, being the sole support of his drunken father's large family. Dr. Brotherick discovers there is reason for a marriage, but while he is urging this on the girl Elwood is fatally injured in an automobile accident. Elwood dies and Dr. Brotherick fixes up a yarn to tell Remember's parents. She goes to California by his advice and meets prominent movie people on the train. The train is nearly wrecked by an accident to the locomotive and has to stop in the desert.

NOBODY knew how long the train would be delayed. All were like people on a ship becalmed in mid-ocean. They could not go on until a new engine was secured. A trainman had to walk to the next block signal tower, miles ahead, and telegraph back for another locomotive.

The passengers settled down to hours of deferment, cursing delay and comparing it, not with the speed of the pioneers who agonized across the wilderness, but with the velocity of yesterday's express.

Viva and Mem wandered about, looking at the cactus and the sagebrush and deliciously expecting a rattlesnake under every clump Viva returned to the car and to sleep, but Mem strolled farther and farther away

She saw Tom Holby set out for a brisk walk He climbed a ragged butte with astonishing agility, winning the applause of the passengers. He had the knack of acquiring applause

The other passengers dawdled about, but Mem went farther and farther. She wanted to see what was on the other side of that butte as much as mankind has longed to see the other side of the moon When she got round she found that the other side was much like the other side—more desert, more buttes, utter dissimilarity, yet the complete resemblance of ridges to chaos

When she started back the cool of the shadow made her rest awhile. The heat and the hypnosis of the shimmering sand sea put her asleep in spite of her. If she woke with a start, the train was moving, a new engine drawing it and its broken engine. She ran full, picked herself up, limped forward.

She was alone in the wilderness, and the train was already a toy running through a gap between two lofty buttes, one a grandiose Tower of Babel, the other a deformed and crossed written dubieties. Both mocked the girl unendurably and she stood panting in a suffocation of fright, her hands plucking at each other's finger nails Which was about as profitable as anything else they could have found to do.

Then for the first time Mem understood what the desert meant to those who had seen the last burro and found the canteen full of dry air.

Enter Tom Holby

For a trance while Mem made a perfect allegory of helplessness on a monument She heard a voice laughing, with a kind of querying exclamation:

"Hello?"

The word was as unimportant as could be and it came from what she had just decreed the most useless thing on earth, a handsome moving picture actor

His next word was no more brilliant He touched his hat and said:

"Well!"

Mem had not yet even found that much to say. And he went on garrulously to the extent of

"Here we are, eh?"

There was no denying this, and it was the first thing Mem's paralyzed brain could understand, so she nodded briskly.

Almost Disappointed

"I've nearly died of thirst in the desert half a dozen times, and I've gone mad twice, but there was always a camera or two a few yards off and a grub wagon just outside. And the heroine is always game, hoping to the rescue and picked me up in time for the final clinch. I see the heroine, but the grub wagon's late."

"Wh-what are we to do?"

"Well, I'm not going to act anyway as long as there's no camera on the job. Let's sit down and wait."

"For what?"

"Oh, I guess the train will come back, or another one will come along and we can flag it in plenty of time. Sit down, won't you?"

Mem was almost disappointed at having her epic turned into a commonplace. She resented the denial of a noble experience, now that his coolness reassured her

He brushed off a ledge of rock with his hat in movie fashion and said,

"Sit down on this handsome red divan, won't you? I'm Mr. Holby, by the way."

"Yes, I know," she said, and, feeling that she ought to announce herself, she stammered, "My name is Steddon, Remember Steddon."

"I always will," he said.

"Oh, that's my first name! Remember is my first name."

"Oh! What a beautiful name! Especially for such a—such a—Mmm, yes"

He caught from her eyes that where she came from a commitment from a stranger was an insult.

"Do sit down," he begged, "at least so that I can. I all out of training and I'm dog tired"

She sat down, and he dropped down by her. There was so much room elsewhere that this struck her as rather presumptuous, but she could hardly resent it since it was not her desert.

There was a long silence. Then he mused aloud

"Remember, eh? Great! Robina would have preferred that to the one she chose Do you know Robina?"

"I've seen her"

The Real Robina

"On the train"

"Oh, then you haven't seen her That isn't the real Robina that walks about That's just a poor, plain, frightened, anxious little thing, a Cinderella who only begins to live when she puts on her glass slipper. She has to be so infernally noble all day long that you can hardly blame her for resting her overworked virtues when she's off the lot I need a pretty decent fellow, too, before I began to be a hero by trade But now—gosh! how I envy Farnaby! When there's no camera on me I'm a mighty mean man"

"Really?"

"Oh, I'm a fiend I'm thinking of playing villains for a while, so that I can be respectable at my own expense outside the factory. But I'm so mussed up between my professional emotions and my personal ones that it's hard to keep from acting, on and off. Now look at this situation. If the camera sang were here I'd know just what to do. I'd be Sir Walter Raleigh in a Stetson and chaps. But since there's just us two here and I have you in my power—or you have me in your power—I don't know just how to act. It depends on you. Are you a heroine or an adventuress?"

"I don't understand you."

"Are you an ingénue or a vamp?"

"I don't speak French."

"Then you must be an ingénue," he said. "In that case I suppose I really ought to play the villain and—— But here comes the train. Dog-on it! just as we were working up a real little plot. I hope I haven't compromised you. If you're afraid I have, I'll have to go back and hide till the next train comes along. Or you can, for I imagine it's Robina that reversed the engine. She probably missed me and suspected that I was out here with a prettier girl than she is—pardon me! Shall I go hide?"

"Oh no! no! I couldn't think of it. Nobody knows me. It can't make any difference what they say about me."

"Gosh! what an enviable position. Stick to your luck, Miss Steddon. May I help you down?"

Guessed Right

That was a chapter in Mem's life. Holby had guessed right Robina had looked for him, not found him, and had set the whole train in an uproar. She bore down on the helpless conductor, and while he protested against the sacrilege of stopping and reversing the Limited when it was already late, she pulled the rope herself

She knew the signals, having played in a railroad serial, and she soon had the train backing at full speed.

She had half suspected that Tom Holby had a companion in the desert, and when she looked out and saw him with the pretty chit whose magazine he had picked up, she was tempted to give the signal to go ahead again.

She preferred to give poor Holby her opinion of him. Mem crept back to her place, shivering with her first experience of stardom and its conspicuousness.

Viva made a great ado over her and had to hear all about it. She sighed over the tameness of the incident as Mem described it

"But then that was what was to be expected, dear-ree. Us movie people gets so much excitement on the screen that we're all wore out when anything happens with no director around to tell us what to do."

Mem escaped and took up in haste her daily bulletin for home consumption. Mr. Woodville grew more vivid in her letter and his resemblance to Tom Holby was amazing. She even put in a little bit of her adventure and told how Mr. Woodville with marvelous heroism saved her from a rattlesnake that charged at her with fangs bristling and rattles in full play. She confessed that she had never met such a man and that she really owed her life to him

To the Proposal

She thought this would lead up excellently to the proposal he was to make in the next day or two. She gave this letter to the porter, who dropped it off at the next stop.

The train made up so much of its lost time that it was only two hours late when it drew into Tucson.

Mem was bewildered when she found that Tom Holby was getting off there, too. And so was Robina. But they were only stretching their legs. Holby paused to say good by to Mem just as he was tipping her porter a quarter for two days' inattention.

She did not see the porter's face. It was hardly as black as Robina's when she was compelled to wait while Tom made his adieux.

He left Mem in a whirl. But her faculties went round in the mad panic of a pinwheel when a strange, somber person spoke to her in a parsony voice:

"Miss Steddon?"

"Yes."

"I am Doctor Galbraith, pastor of the First Church here. Your father telegraphed me to meet you at the train and look after you."

"Do you know papa?"

"No, but he found my name in the Yearbook, and I shall be only too glad to serve a brother in the Lord I have found a nice boarding house for you, and my wife and I will look after you as best we can"

Mem was struck violently with the thought, "But what becomes of Mr. Woodville now?"

She followed Doctor Galbraith as if she were the prisoner of his unlikely kindliness, as indeed she was.

Copyright, 1922 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THIS story of this father of mine who had suddenly been conjured up like magic before Carlotta's astonished eyes could wait until another time, indeed I was sure that Carlotta would accept me with my mystery and never question me until I was ready to speak

As I reached Carlotta's side the door opened and in walked Mr. Rogers.

At sight of Carlotta and me at Dad Lee's bedside, Mr. Rogers pulled himself up short with an effort which was clearly evident. Then, in a hushed and elaborately sympathetic tone which was very different from the energetic way he'd come flinging into the room, he asked:

"Is he all right? Anything we can do for him?"

Dad Lee stirred and moaned fretfully. I watched him for a second. Then I turned to Carlotta. She sat in a shadow staring across the room—intently as I could see beyond doubt—but it wasn't at Dad Lee she gazed. Her eyes were boring in Mr Rogers' face.

"I'd better come out into the hall to speak to you," I replied.

At once he held open the door and stood aside for me to pass

"I'm so sorry I wasn't here when your father was brought in," exclaimed Mr. Rogers. "You had my assurance once before, so very long ago that I'd do anything in my power to serve him—or you. But I was called by telephone just a little while before—the accident—by a friend living at a hotel uptown. You know the place," he added nervously, giving the name of the very hotel to which Lyons had traced Dick West.

Strangely enough his voice rose to a loud and strident tone as he pronounced the name of the hotel. But what was even more strange was that his hand, which still held the knob of Dad Lee's door, jerked suddenly just then and the door swung ajar for a second. Looking in, I got the impression that Dad Lee had lifted himself momentarily and that his eyes were wide open. But even if this meant anything, I did not see what danger it could portend or what I could do about it. Instinctively, however, I took a guarded attitude toward the manager of the hotel.

"Didn't he have a nurse—and send her out on some errand?" I asked

At those words Mr. Rogers' face brightened. I was very sure I'd made no mistake about that for the glow from a big bulb just overhead fell full on him.

"She ought to be back soon," he said with great suavity and a certain satisfaction which made me suspicious. "I'm so glad, for I know how hard it would be on you if he had no attendant. I suppose then you'd feel that you had to stay the night—which would be most exhausting"

"I'll stay the night in any event," I replied. "Surely you can give me a room."

RICH GIRL, POOR GIRL

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

"YES, I let her go. She will have to stay in with me while mother is away, and I thought it only fair to give her this whole evening to herself."

"You must promise not to spend any evenings here without her until mother's return," Adelaide insisted. "I cannot bear the thought of your being alone."

"I won't be alone," Jennie promised. "However will be with me every day and in the evenings—except when you can come over for a while. Can't you do that often?"

"Not often, I am afraid," Adelaide answered. "You see, Mrs Hollingshead is used to me. Her nurse takes good care of her. But now that Miss Patricia is gone, Mrs. Hollingshead seems to need me."

"Does she know yet about her daughter?" the young girl inquired curiously

"She does not realize what has happened," Adelaide evaded

She could not bring herself to tell her little sister of how she (Adelaide) must impersonate the dead girl. She preferred that Jennie be kept in ignorance of that. Later Adelaide would explain it all to her mother. Until then she would hold her peace on the subject

The two sisters talked until late into the night. Hester Mortimer came in, chatted for a few moments, then went to her room

At last Adelaide arose from the easy chair in which she had been resting

"It is very late, child," she answered, "and you must go to school tomorrow morning. I should not have kept you up until this hour. Hurry and get to bed."

But Jennie lingered. It was evident that there was something on her mind of which she wished to speak.

"I was wondering, Sister," she said, hesitatingly, "if I might not stay at home from school just for tomorrow? You see—it is the day of Mother's operation—and I shall be anxious and it will be easier if I am here with you instead of at school among a lot of people who do not care—where I will have to work over my lessons."

But the older girl shook her head

"No, my dear, it will not be easier for you if you stay at home and do nothing," she contradicted.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1853, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

Lady Recovers Health After Serious Nervous Break-down

Claims Wincarnis Did It

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least little thing made me jump, and my limbs trembled as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shriek with fear. I became so depressed, fidgety and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually ashamed of myself. I lost a great deal of weight and simply could not get any restful sleep.

I began taking Wincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was nothing less than startling. Everyone commented on the wonderful improvement of my condition. Today I am completely restored to health and never feel the slightest trace of nervousness. My appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly every night, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or broken-down woman would know of what a wonderful tonic and restorative Wincarnis is."

FINANCE —AND— BUSINESS

—By B. C. Forbes—

Don't get excited. The announced ten per cent. railway rate reduction will neither:

Precipitate a boom in business; nor

My opinion is that the favorable effects flowing from the decision will outweigh the unfavorable effects and that six months from now railroad net earnings will be running ahead rather than behind those of recent months.

The whole rate question is so complicated that railroad men themselves differ concerning certain aspects of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision. As accurately as a layman can analyze the situation the facts would appear to be about as follows:

The 10 per cent. reduction will not apply to rates on the principal agricultural products which already have been reduced substantially, nor to rates on other classes of freight which have been materially lowered by the railroads during the last nine months.

These exemptions are very important. Some authorities estimate them at almost 50 per cent. of the total freight handled by the roads.

The reductions now ordered, consequently, will not mean a fresh decrease of anything like 10 per cent. on total traffic receipts, but nearer 5 per cent.

Probably very little freight of any class has been withheld from shipment because of hopes that rates would be reduced.

Consequently, it is not likely there will be any enormous releasing of shipments immediately the rate reduction goes into effect—on July 1, the commission proposes.

Nevertheless the sentimental influence of "lower railroad rates" will probably be quite marked upon general business.

Now that rates have been cut, will the Railroad Labor Board reduce wages?

I do not believe that, deep down in their hearts, they really expect anything of the kind.

Seeing that the cost of living has been tending upwards for the last nine months and is now about 10 per cent. above last year's lowest level, the era of wages reductions would seem to be about over and will probably end with the ending of the coal and textile strikes.

* * *

Business improvement now under way is so solidly-founded that it will take more than a modest reduction in railroad rates to arrest it.

NEW HIGHS ARE ESTABLISHED IN NEW YORK

Prices were sharply stronger in the New York market, many new highs and new record prices being established, in the last few minutes of trading call money was advanced to 4½ per cent.

Record highs were made by American Ice preferred, Producers' & Refiners', Coca Cola, Phillips Petroleum and North American (new stock).

Lake Erie & Western common and preferred made new highs since 1917.

High marks for the year were set by Chicago & Alton, American Sumatra, Atlantic Gulf, Inspiration, Retail Stores, Pan-American, Sears Roebuck, Tobacco Products, U. S. Realty, Marland Oil, Cosden, Wheeling & Lake Erie common and preferred, American Ship & Commerce, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Wabash and Lehigh Valley.

FACTORS OF STRENGTH.

Judge Gary's statement that the country seemed nearer prosperity today than at any time in recent years, was accepted as the keynote of optimism, was a market factor. The supply of money was abundant, despite the advance in rates from 3 per cent. opening to 4 per cent.

The Federal Court decision upholding the 15 per cent. increase allowed railroads, was another factor through freight helped these issues.

American Ice Company's strength was reported that the directors would retire the preferred stock and issue four shares of new common for each share now outstanding.

Large gain in Brooklyn Rapid Transit was made on publication of its April statement, showing net income of $346,086 for April, compared to $102,145 a year ago, and for ten months the $2,360,137 against a deficit of $5,784,503 in the same period last year.

SETS BUSINESS RECORD.

The bulge in Coca-Cola was supposed to reflect May earnings, reported as breaking all records. In April Coca-Cola earned $703,000, and its May figures are forecast at about $850,000.

Little doubt is felt that the Federal inquiry into the proposed steel merger will result in an O. K., although changes in the plan are ordered. While the inquiry is pending, however, pool manipulation appears largely inactive.

Rise in Steel, at 102, was within a half point of its high since 1920.

Maxwell B's new year's high was laid to increased production of cars. The Maxwell Motor Co. is said to be turning out 300 cars a day. In the recent readjustment of its finances the company retained working capital of $26,500,00, of which $5,000,000 is in cash and securities.

ATLANTIC GULF UP.

Atlantic Gulf moved forward two points to a new high at 40¾. A director of the company denied that no merger with other companies was contemplated, neither was there any intention of selling the holdings of its Mexican oil subsidiary, the Atlantic Gulf Oil Company.

California Petroleum was one of the most active stocks in the oil group and in the first hour sold into new high levels at 40, compared with its January low of 43½. The company has just submitted its annual report for 1921, showing a surplus after depreciation, taxes and preferred dividends, equal to $2.64 a share on the $14,877,005 outstanding common stock. The gross earnings of the company were $9,017,385 as compared with $7,186,134 in the previous year, and the amount turned over to surplus was $337,736.

Tobacco stocks continued strong and active, with Reynolds B's selling for the first time this year, and tobacco products, Ligget & Myers, American Sumatra and American Tobacco at or near high levels.

Anaconda and Inspiration were the most active of the copper stocks in the last hour, Anaconda at 55¾, below the fractional under the year's high. Butte and Superior and Kennecott sold at top prices for the movement.

Market Is Favorable for Municipal Bonds

By MONROE ROBERTS.

Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, May 26.—There has been very little bidding by prominent investment houses for million dollar issues of municipal bonds and these, for the most part, have commanded the best prices in over a year.

Municipal officials have been quick to take advantage of the situation and show no hesitancy in advertising bids they do not consider satisfactory.

It is reported negotiations for a $50,000,000 issue are under way. Leaders of Italian industries have had their eye upon the American investment market for a long time in the hope they could secure the use of American credit in perfecting some of the industrial expansion which would be so beneficial to their country at the present time.

The amount commonly mentioned is $100,000,000, which sum will most likely find its way back to the channels of American trade and industry in the purchase of American materials. One of the prominent projects in view by the Italians is that of electrifying some of their State railways.

CARTRIDGE CO. REPORTS BIG INCREASE

An interesting item of the day's industrial news is that the United States Cartridge Company in Lowell is turning out more cartridges at this time than since the war. The cartridges are for use by sportsmen, not by soldiers, however.

The question of arbitration of the differences between Lynn shoe manufacturers and shoe workers is still hanging fire. The State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation wants a chance to settle the trouble there.

Brockton, May 26.—Chief Demeter, presiding over a gypsy band encamped on the fair grounds, intends to locate permanently here and blossom out as a manufacturer of factory rollers. He is looking for a factory. Chief Demeter is tired of the life of a nomad and longs for the solid position of a manufacturer with an established business. Rising taxes, ever rising expenses, strikes and everything.

* * *

Lowell, May 26.—The United States Cartridge Company reports the best business since the war. The ammunition is for use by hunters. Officials believe that the plant will be on full time all Summer making cartridges for the Fall trade.

RETURN TO SCHOOL.

Fitchburg, May 26.—One effect of the mill strike here has been that about seventy-five juvenile operatives, masquerading as of legal age to work, have gone back to school because there is no place else to go.

* * *

Lawrence, May 26—Building is increasing and the compromise of the mill strike is growing more positive. Meantime, the mill strikers will have a flower day Saturday to raise relief funds for needy families.

* * *

Pawtucket, R. I., May 26—Picketing was ordered here, partly as a result of feeling over the injunction proceedings now occupying the Superior Court. The strike of the mill workers remains the same.

* * *

Nashua, N. H., May 26—More operatives are enrolling in families today. After fifteen weeks the textile strike situation is little changed. Workers continue to leave for other cities. Drives on 4,000 family heads are out of employment.

GOING TO COURTS.

Haverhill, May 26—Union heads definitely rejected the proposition of the shoe manufacturers that the matter of wages be arbitrated. They say the peace agreement has not expired and they are not required to arbitrate. The manufacturers will take the matter to the courts for an interpretation of the peace agreement. Shoe shipments continue heavy.

BUSINESS UPTURN SEEN IN FREIGHT

By Cosmopolitan News Service.

Washington, May 26.—Revival in business is indicated by the decrease in idle freight cars.

Freight cars idle because of business conditions totalled 513,194 cars on May 15, compared with 621,746 cars on May 8, or a decrease of 8,552 cars, according to reports received by the American Railway Association from railroads throughout the United States.

Reports showed that of the total 243,689 were surplus freight cars, that is, cars in good repair in excess of current freight requirements, while the remaining 168,507 were freight cars in bad order in excess of the normal number unfit for service.

Surplus box cars numbered 84,640, a decreased within a week of 1,984, while surplus coal cars totalled 218,460, or a reduction with the same period of 7,310 cars.

A decrease within a week of 180 was reported for coke cars which totalled 5,185. There was an increase of 1,258 in the number of surplus stock cars, the total being 15,356 cars.

FRENCH HOLDNGS OF GOLD ARE INCREASED

New York, May 6.—Gold holdings of the Bank of France advanced to 5,57,000,000 francs and silver to 385,400,000 in the week ending May 25, according to the weekly statement issued today. Loans and discounts show a slight decline to 4,568,000,000 francs and circulation to 35,674,000,000 francs. The rate of discount is unchanged at 5 per cent.

$99,000 for Seat

New York, May 26.—New York Stock Exchange membership of P. L. Sellsgberg, deceased, has been sold to Robert D. Hartshorne for $99,000. Last previous sale was $97,500.

LATE TRADING IN BOSTON IS IMPROVED

Rutland, up 30¢ per share in four months, is a market puzzler. Some attribute its rise to possible New York Central acquisition of the road. There are less than 45,000 shares in the open market, which makes it susceptible to pool manipulation, perhaps more so than almost any other listed stock.

NEW HAVEN UP

Others attribute its latest rise to the Supreme Master decision, upholding the 15 percent. increase in rate division to New England roads.

New Haven stepped forward a point.

Warren Brothers again stepped to the fore. The common was up four points, reaching a high, and the 2d preferred was up two points.

Boston & Maine D lost two points.

BOSTON CURB IRREGULAR.

Most active issues were: Boston & Montana, 4¼ at 20; Crystal, off 1-16 at 1⅛; Verde Mines, off 2 at 31 and Ruby, up a point at 35.

New England Fuel Oil gained three points at 49½. This followed a 3¼ advance in the issue, made the previous day.

Boston Notes

RUTLAND RAILROAD, which enjoyed a rise of over six points, though dull since its April flurry, reports economies in operation of $40,658 compared with April of last year.

NEW ENGLAND OIL officials say appeal will be made in decision in suit by Island Oil receivers against New England Oil Corporation.

ATLANTIC FRUIT COMPANY, which defaulted on interest due December 1 last on $10,000,000 7 per cent. debenture bonds, plans reorganization, details shortly to be made public.

MASSACHUSETTS GAS net earnings estimated for corporation for April were $248,202, an increase of $40,658 compared with April of last year.

ROLLS-ROYCE OF AMERICA reports net loss for 1921 of $795,402. President Belknap now looks for more satisfactory operating results

WEST END ST. RY. stockholders meet May 31 to discuss any developments arising in connection with consolidation with Boston Elevated.

TORRINGTON'S further market rise, attributed to Hartford, Ct., interests, still unexplained, has been marked by light transactions.

LAKE COPPER CO. for year ending April 30 shows net current assets of $19,030 and total current assets in 1921 of $203,129. No active work has been done on property since 1918.

U. S. FULLER CO. has closed construction contracts for several million dollars in the last few weeks. A twelve-story building on old City Club site involves $1,400,000.

U. S. REALTY & IMPROVEMENT reports steady strengthening of company's position and foresees continuance of good earnings.

TENNESSEE ELECTRIC POWER CO. depositaries, under plan of organization, have been notified deposits of bonds will close next Monday at 1 p. m.

NORTH STAR MINES CO. comes to the fore with notice of a twenty-cent dividend declaration, to be paid June 15.

DEALINGS MIXED ON LONDON EXCHANGE

London, May 26.—Dealings were mixed on the London Exchange. Prices were: Consols 57¾, off ⅛; British war loan 3½s 64¼, up ⅛; 5s 99⅞, off ⅛; 4½s, 46.43, 100¾, up ⅜; 4s 77½, off ⅛; 5% Russian 1s 13¼; 4½s 11, off ⅛; 4s 7⅝, off ⅜. UPWARD SWING IN COMMODITIES

By W. S. COUSINS

Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, May 26.—During the past six weeks there has been a gradual rise in commodity prices in this country as well as in Europe. As checked up statistically the trend has permanently left the bottom rung and is generally pointed toward the higher squares.

The index number of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, compiled from 109 prices quotations for customers goods in March, stands at 157, against 159 in January; for raw materials, 147 against 141 in January; for exports 141, against 139 in January; for imports 111 against 110 in January, and for entire group a figure of 147 against 142 in January.

WHEAT GROWS WEAKER AFTER EARLY UPTURN

Chicago, May 26.—Although showing an upturn at the start, wheat prices weakened today. Receipts here were large. The opening, the opening, which varied from unchanged figures to quarter cent higher, with May 1.23¾ to 1.23⅝, and July 1.21¼ to 1.22, was followed by a moderate further

HAYS ASKS FOR PUBLIC AID TO PURGE MOVIES

By International News Service.

Pittsburgh, May 26.—The co-operation of the public in' his efforts to establish and maintain the highest possible moral and artistic standard of production in motion pictures was asked today in an address before an audience at Carnegie Institute by Will H. Hays, former Postmaster-General and now president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Mr. Hays warned his hearers, however, not to expect any "overnight miracle" in the motion picture industry. "We are building this industry for years to come—for generations to come," he declared.

"Though our progress may seem perhaps slow at the beginning, the results, we are confident, will be certain and permanent."

Low Car Fares Boom City

Willing to Pay Part of Elevated Cost as It Comes Back in Increased Taxation, Says Senator Carrick

One of the most intelligent interviews which was given to the Boston American by the members of the Legislature on the Boston American's five-cent fare fight was that by Senator George H. Carrick of Cambridge.

Senator Carrick said:

I am in favor of it if it can be done. I believe any city served by the Elevated should pay a portion of the cost. Cambridge gets the best service in the country. As a result, you can hardly hire a house there today. We can afford to pay a part of the cost of the service because we get it back in increased taxation.

Mr. Carrick is a real estate man. He is an intelligent, successful real estate man, and he has put his finger on the crux of the matter. Lower fares do help real estate wherever they are enjoyed.

Of course, we do not ever expect to convince the big trustees in Boston, whose dead hand has kept the city back for so many years, that Mr. Carrick's proposition is true. They are not energetic real estate men, nor are they particularly interested in the progress of the city. They are 3-per-centers. They cut other people's coupons, taking their own percentage.

We expect opposition from them to the five-cent fare proposal because they oppose all progress. We have them to thank for our narrow, crooked streets, for the haphasard development of the city, and for about everything that other big cities have done to make their city more attractive and that Boston would have done if it had not been for their opposition.

Boston Can Do Better

But the Proposed Building of a Big Hotel Here Proves It Is Not a Declining City

We are glad to note that one of the biggest hotel companies in the world proposes to build one of the biggest hotels in Boston. This is proof enough that able businessmen do not regard Boston as a declining city. Indeed it is not. We are holding our own in all important respects.

But we could do better. We do have certain handicaps to overcome with respect to geographical position and remoteness from the source of raw materials and sterility of our soil. But we have other compensating advantages. New England has fine harbors. It has an invigorating climate; its very changes are invigorating.

We have a great body of skilled labor. We have the habit of thrift. We combine a manufacturing area with a Summer resort. We are two full days on a round-trip nearer to the greatest ports of Europe. We have successful traditions—those intangible assets which, like electricity, can be known only by their results.

But we repeat that we can do better. We have in New England, as compared with the rest of the country, some of the vices of the English people. We are cold, aloof and set in our habits, and a bit inclined to believe that there is nothing worth while knowing that we ourselves do not know.

Salesmen all tell us that New England is the hardest place in the world in which to sell goods, and that salesmen are treated worse in New England than in any other section of the country. A salesman writes:

To get to the average New England buyer is notoriously difficult. He likes to hold aloof, with the result that he necessarily loses much of important information which he ought have. He learns slowly. He may refuse an interview because he thinks he is busy or not interested, when the truth is, he is simply too mentally lazy and dull to see the man, who, for all he knows, may have something that would revolutionize his business! His inconsistency in refusing interviews to other salesmen, while at the same time he expects other buyers to interview his salesmen, is inexplicable.

More School Buildings

Reprehensible That Boston Pupils Should Find Themselves Improperly Housed

It is extraordinary and reprehensible that Boston school children should find themselves improperly housed on account of inadequate school buildings and at a time when there has been so much unemployment, and at a time when the public authorities are under so strong a moral duty, not only to proceed with all public works that are necessary, but even to anticipate the need for new constructions in order to find work for the unemployed.

There is no honor in a low tax rate and a surplus in the treasury if it means poor upkeep of streets and of public buildings, and generally improper provision for the maintenance and obsolescence of our public institutions.

Our street railways ruined themselves under private management by paying unearned dividends from money that ought to have gone to maintenance. The object was private profit. Now a city can run down at the heel in the same way. The object would of course not be for private profit, but in order to make a false showing of an equally false economy.

Truth in Ward Case

Duty of Parents of Young Peters, Who Was Slain, to Investigate Charge of Blackmail

We are glad to note from our correspondent that the parents of Clarence Peters, the nineteen-year-old Haverhill boy whom young Ward, the millionaire bread manufacturer of New York, says he slew for attempting to blackmail him, are not going to allow this smirch upon their boy's memory to pass without investigation.

Whatever the truth may be it certainly is the clear duty of the young man's parents to refuse to believe that he was guilty of blackmail without a thorough investigation by agents whom they can trust. The retention of Mr. Michael L. Sullivan of Salem by the Peters family means that they will protect the lad's memory to the limit.

The Voice of New England

Boston Women's Ankles

Editor Boston American:

Two men were standing in front of the Touraine Hotel the other day. Every time a woman would pass, one of them would say: "That's a horse on you."

I listened and discovered they had a dispute over the statement of one of them that the women of Boston had the fattest ankles of any women in the world. They had picked one pair of sturdy passing ankles as a standard. A dollar changed hands each time a woman strode by whose ankles were thinner or fatter than the "sample." When they quit, the Boston champion said he had lost $27 in forty minutes. Now, I would like to know if there is any justification for this disgraceful act, and if so why? is this due to the 10c fare?

"Good Liquor Scarce"

Editor Boston American:

On behalf of Mrs. Freishtat of this city, I write you with reference to an article which appeared in your issue May 23rd:

GOOD LIQUOR SCARCE.

Moonshine whiskey which tastes like a combination of denatured alcohol, bad city water and benzine is sold in a little grocery store right across from City Hall. Strangers are not barred. A woman sells it. She demands cash and "let the credit go" in making sales.

Indeed in all his Brockton adventures, the reporter was tempted to do a little paraphrase of Omar Khayyam's famous line, and make it read:

"I often wonder what the vintners buy
One-half so cutlus as the stuff they sell."

Inasmuch as Mrs. Freishtat is the only woman running a grocery store right across from City Hall in any direction it would seem that you had sufficiently indicated her as the person whom you charge as selling liquor.

Since the publication of this article she has been greatly annoyed by inquiries on the part not only of her friends and customers but of an extremely disreputable element, and has been greatly humiliated and annoyed.

Please inform your readers that Mrs. Freishtat is not the woman intended.

HERBERT C. THORNDIKE,

New England Gallantry

Editor Boston American:

What has became of New England's gallantry? Men no longer ever think of giving a seat to a woman. Because a few women smoke cigarettes, wear short hair, knickerbockers and swear, is there no respect to be given the conservative majority. Will somebody answer?

Theatre Closing

Can anyone tell me why Boston theatres open a half-hour earlier and close a half-hour earlier than the theatres of any other city in the world? Do the people of culture need so darn much sleep? I am curious to know.

AUTOCRATS, ANARCHISTS —AND ANARCHISTS

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

The social clock never stands still. Nor do you, as an individual mechanism. We keep agoing, back and forth, backward or forward.

If you stopped you would be "a dead one." And if you go backward you are worse than dead. Indeed, you are cheating the undertaker.

Actually, you have no alternative. YOU ARE BOUND TO GO FORWARD. That is the law of human nature and human society.

Pity the dead hulks, millions and millions of them, whom the procession passes by! They have failed to hear or heed the warning command of the policemen to "move on."

So much for clock and pendulum and policeman, and their suggestion of personal movement. What we had especially in mind is the habit of the race, in its efforts to organize and to progress, of alternatively trying to run away from itself and trying to stand still.

And both efforts equally futile—and equally useful. We may call the runaway part of the social process anarchy and the standstill attempt autocracy. Just for convenience.

Think it over. Are not both of these extremes equally necessary—and vain?

Now that you agree, please realize what is involved in your agreement. For you have indicated your sympathy with both autocracy and anarchism!

Surely, no self-respecting person of well ordered mind and of responsible intelligence wants to consider himself, or to be regarded, at the same time orthodox and radical, swinging now to one extreme and now to the other, blowing hot and blowing cold!

And yet that is precisely what you are, before pride of position and feat of opinion makes you choose one extreme or the other. There are some folks who try to minimize movement by compromising with the extremes. So that we have, in religion, the liberal orthodox and the orthodox liberal; and, in politics and economics, we have the moderate standpatters and the halting progressives.

All of which is in general terms, to indicate the different types which accelerate social speed and yet prevent the human race from being really a "race," which might too quickly run its course towards ruin or stagnation. Both to be avoided.

A democracy, even one so slow and imperfect in its workings, as ours, can always find orderly and lawful means of registering THE WILL AND THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE and making them, irresistibly, THE WILL AND THE VOICE OF GOD.

If This Is Your Birthday

You Are LUCKY

IF today is the anniversary of your birth you should be practical, methodical and prudent, but at the same time imaginative and sensitive, for there are in your stars two great possibilities in your life—a choice between two ways of life must be made, and after this decision you will fail or succeed in the way you have chosen, but you will never be given another choice.

The choice is one between the life of the body and the life of the mind. Your highest development can be attained by either or too cold: it may be your friends too much concerned in your affairs or too little interested; it may be your daily work too much and too hard, or you cannot get enough to make a living, but always you are dissatisfied.

Do you realize the impression you make on other persons with whom you come in contact?

It does not take very long before even the merest acquaintance begins to notice your attitude toward the world in general.

You cannot be served satisfactorily even at a restaurant, because the waiter feels your frown and instinctively knows you are not pleased.

It is a foolish person who so fully prepares the way for friends and material success.

SEEN AND HEARD

By Lambert and Daily

GOVERNOR COX used three quills with which to sign the bill to increase the benefits to women with children under the workmen's compensation law. He gave one each to REPRESENTATIVES WILLIAM S. CONROY of Fall River, HUGH J. CAMPBELL and JOHN J. HEFFERNAN of Boston.

Perhaps the most delighted person in the State over the victories of BEVERIDGE and PINCHOT is DANIEL COSGROVE of Lowell, who was the Progressive candidate for Lieutenant-Governor when CHARLES SUMNER BIRD was the Bull Moose candidate for Governor.

JAMES J. STORROW may be found any of these pleasant days in his home garden. He has an acre under cultivation and is doing all the work himself.

WENDELL PHILLIPS THORE is telling his friends he is going to run for Governor on an old-age pension platform.

"Looks like old times, Governor," said a man outside of City Hall the other day, when he grasped the hand of FORMER GOVERNOR EUGENE NOBLE FOSS. The "Old Boy" smilingly returned the greeting, which leads one to the thought, "What did he mean by old times?" The meeting took place in the shade of Mayor Curley's office.

Twins had a tough time trying to break into City Hall the other day. The mother wanted to pay a tax bill. She marched upon the school street building with a baby carriage built for two. After vainly trying to get the hand-operated machine by the upright posts in front of the hall she finally had to take the youngsters out of the carriage, place them upon the grass and then lift the carrier over the posts.

"Let's have the hospital in Greater Boston for disabled war veterans," says CAPTAIN PAUL H. HINES. He wants the State to provide a site in the Blue Hills Reservation.

Sedalia, Mo., wants to meet Miss Boston. DR. W. M. WHEELER of the Middle West town wanted to visit the Hub this Summer, so he wrote to the Commercial and Industrial Bureau for some facts about our fair city. JOSH JONES, the working secretary of the bureau, sent him a load of statistics and said, "They're coming East this year instead of going West."

GARRET P. SERVISS ON EARTH'S MOTION

By Garrett P. Serviss

"I like reading your articles very much, and I want to ask if there are any ways of illustrating thas the earth moves? I have heard that it is demonstrated in some of the colleges abroad by means of a huge pendulum."—F. S. F., Scranton, Pa.

WHAT you have evidently heard of is the "Foucault pendulum," which seventy-one years ago furnished, with great eclat, the first experimental proof of the earth's daily rotation on its axis. No such proof was really needed to satisfy scientific men, or even the general intelligent public, that the earth did turn on its axis from west to east once every twenty-four hours, for it had long been recognized that the apparent motion of the stars from east to west, at the regular rate of fifteen degrees per hour, or one complete revolution in twenty-four hours, was only reasonably to be explained as a relativity effect of the earth's rotation around its axis in the other direction.

For those who knew a little more about astronomy a beautiful confirmation was found in the fact that the sun seems to move eastward nearly one degree per day, because of the earth's revolution around him in a period of 365 days; the result of this daily eastward advance of the sun being that the earth has to turn through about one degree more than a full circle in order to bring the sun back on the meridian. Thus the period of the earth's rotation as measured by the position of the sun about four minutes longer than when measured with reference to a fixed star.

However, there has never been a time when "doubting Thomases" and "men from Missouri" —and very useful they sometimes prove themselves, too—have not existed, and so even the scientific world was immensely interested when, in 1851, a celebrated French physicist named Foucault turned the great dome of the Pantheon in Paris into an enormous demonstrating room, where he undertook to show all doubters, by the direct evidence of their own eyes, that the great earth turns infinitely more softly and immensely more swiftly than any flywheel constructed by man.

He did it with a heavy pendulum suspended from the centre of the dome by a steel wire 200 feet long, and so arranged that there would be no force interfering to change the plane in which the pendulum swung after once it was started. Being set in motion the pendulum kept swinging in the same unchanging vertical plane as long as the oscillation continued. On the floor of the Pantheon Foucault arranged a circle of fine sand, so placed that at each end of its swing the pendulum bob traced a line in the sand.

As the records of enthused spectators watched the great pendulum slowly swinging, hour after hour, night and day, they saw (with fascinated attention when its meaning was pointed out to them) that with every swing the pendulum bob cut a line across the sand, advanced a certain distance to the right of the next preceding line, and thus in the course of about 32 hours a complete circle of evenly spaced lines, like the graduations of a mathematical instrument, was produced.

Medbury Says—

The Reason Married Men Attend Church Is To Hear Somebody Else Preach.

By JOHN P. MEDBURY.

A pastor in a Kansas City church has made a name for himself by reserving the last two pews of his church for lovesick couples. This is a good idea and he has started people going to church who have never been in one before.

The first Sunday he tried this everybody was trying to crowd into the last two pews.

Only couples who are in love can sit in these pews; the married people have to sit down front.

It's a fine idea to court your girl in church because if she accepts you you've got a minister handy.

This is also great for bashful men. If a man hasn't got his arm around a girl at first he will have as soon as they start to pass the collection plate.

He knows that if he's holding her hands with both of his, the money can't jump out of his pocket.

A lovesick couple can go to this church and take their parents along with them. They can make all the love they want while the parents are sleeping.

The reformers will probably say that a church is no place for love except marriage, but they're wrong.

When you buy a ticket on a public carrier they only pay damages in case of an accident, and marriage is often worse than an accident—it's a catastrophe.

This Kansas City minister has the right idea, but why does he limit it to two pews?

He can be sure that these pews will be occupied, but how is he going to fill the rest of them?

It will probably be all right now for a married man to go out with another girl as long as he takes her to church.

The only reason that married men attend church so often is that they like somebody else to preach to them once in a while.

A man likes to go to church to hear about Heaven. He gets enough of the other place at home.

This preacher has started something and there are a lot of couples in Kansas City who are going to get religious all of a sudden.
